Group will appeal court decision

By HENRY CANTIN

A Wayne County Circuit Court decision holding that the City of Romulus can adopt its new master zoning ordinance, will be appealed, Ernest Ryback, attorney for the citizens advisory group, which initiated the court suit, announced Monday night.

The court ruling in favor of the city was handed down by Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer. The court granted the city's request for a summary judgment of dismissal filed by City Attorney John E. Young on Nov. 17.

The suit was started by a 26-member citizens advisory group led by Robert Plank, president of the Romulus

Democratic Club, when city officials refused to accept petitions for a referendum on the new zoning ordinance adopted by the city council May 6, 1971.

By a vote of 4-3, the city council ruled to follow the recommendation of its legal counsel, Elmsan, Young and O'Rourke, which had advised the council to reject the petitions on the grounds that the zoning law was not legally subject to a referendum vote.

Ryback, in announcing the decision to appeal the court's decision, stated that one of the important questions involved in the case was whether or not the council has the right to deny the citizens of the community the right to make a decision on what kind of community they want to live in.

He stated that the City charter approved by the council provides the right for referendum on council's adoption of any ordinance.

"To say that the residents have no say in the operation of their government and as to what type of community they desire amounts to the first abolishment of the democratic form of government," Ryback said. "Such action by legislative bodies removes the right of the people to make decisions."

The citizens advisory group was organized after the city's first zoning ordinance was contested in court and overwhelmingly rejected in a referendum vote in August, 1970.

The group, at the request of council, participated in drafting the new master zoning ordinance. The group charged that when council approved the new zoning ordinance, however, it was ignored.

Ryback reported the citizens committee objected to changes made in the new ordinance by unauthorized persons after the ordinance was approved by the city council.

A few land parcels were rezoned for different uses, he said. "No one knew of the changes until the ordinance was published," the attorney said.

Ryback contends that the city charger gives the residents the right to petition for a referendum on any ordinance.

Young argued that cities can not be forced to hold a referendum on zoning laws. He cited a decision of the State (Continued on Page 3)

Romulus woman flees from jail, is recaptured

A Romulus woman serving a life sentence for two counts of murder enjoyed a brief night of freedom last Thursday, but she was back in custody Friday morning.

Eula Unsworth, 27, of 7160 Dodge, was one of nine women who took part in two separate escapes from the Detroit

House of Correction (DeHoCo) Thanksgiving night.

She and another woman, Margaret McCann of Detroit, were reported missing after a check of the prisoner's cottages at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Anne Payne, senior matron at the prison farm in Plymouth Township, said the two women apparently just slipped away. Mrs. Unsworth was recaptured Friday morning by Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies.

Later that night, seven other women awaiting trial overpowered three matrons and ran away. They were recaptured within hours after their escape.

That was the second mass escape from DeHoCo in one week. On Nov. 21, six women climbed a barbed-wire fence and fled into near-freezing temperatures. Four of those women are still at large.

All of the women had been transported to DeHoCo from the Wayne County Jail while renovation work is being done there.

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas said all 40 women prisoners from the jail had been taken back downtown Saturday, and would remain there even though the renovation won't be completed for at least another year.

Mrs. Unsworth, mother of seven children, along with Michael J. Barbat, 34, of Detroit, were convicted by a jury of Mrs. Unsworth and women of first degree murder charges.

They were convicted of the robbery-murder of a Dearborn bar owner and a Westland patron.

Killed were Lawrence Suprenaut, 33, of 31020 Middlebury, Westland, and Mrs. Maria Solomie, 62, owner of the Solomie's Bar, located at 10081 Eagle, Dearborn, where the crime occurred.

Both victims were found on the barroom floor about 10 a.m. on Jan. 29 by police. Suprenaut had been shot in the chest and his throat was slit. Mrs. Solomie's throat also was slit.

Barbat was arrested in Indianapolis on March 21 and Mrs. Unsworth was arrested at the Greyhound bus station, Detroit, two days later.

Council okays city stop sign

The Romulus City Council has approved the placement of a four-way "Stop" sign at the intersection of Washington and Ronald streets.

The council's action was based on a recommendation by Police Chief Jacob J. Koch.

The chief had recommended the stop sign be up for a 90-day trial period.

Junior Miss crown captured by Jill Haislip

Huron Valley's Junior Miss for 1972 is an attractive Romulus High School senior.

The new Junior Miss is the bright-eyed, blonde Jill Haislip, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Haislip of 30926 Ecorse Rd., Romulus.

Miss Haislip bested seven other attractive contestants in the Romulus Jaycees' sponsored Junior Miss Pageant held Saturday night at the Romulus Senior High School Auditorium.

Miss Haislip, who also was named "Miss Congeniality", was awarded an Eastern Michigan University scholarship and will reign at all high school and community affairs for the coming year.

The Junior Miss Pageant's first runner-up was April G. Forintos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Forintos of 36180 Pennsylvania Rd., Romulus. Second runner-up was Diane Silvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Silvey of 36831 Porter St., Romulus. Third runnerup was Bonita Joyce Askew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Askew of 11121 Moore St., Romulus.

The other contestants were Marla Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of 35140 Beverly Rd., Romulus; Connie Lynn Bastain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bastain of Farnum St., Romulus; Grizel Bulter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bulter of 11248 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus; and Sheila Marie Wilson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Hunt of 11901 Hunt St., Romulus.

The 1972 Junior Miss was selected on her showing in mental alertness, scholastic achievement, pose and appearance, youth fitness and creative and performing arts.

The contest judges were 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone, Miss Sharon Featherston of Canton Township, a professional model; Robert Padgett, former state president of the Michigan Jaycees; Thomas Otis, director of student life at Eastern Michigan University; Miss Dorothy Weekly, Romulus teacher; and Mrs. Ada Scott, private music instructor.

The new Junior Miss was crowned by Karen Nichols, last year's Junior Miss.

SHE'S MISS CONGENIALITY TOO! - The 1972 Junior Miss for Huron Valley, Jill Haislip (right), smiles happily as she views a plaque received after being voted Miss Congeniality at the Junior Miss Pageant held Saturday night at the Romulus High School. Youth starts drive to aid Romulus center

A fund drive to benefit Romulus' new Help Center was launched today by 15-year-old Raymond Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Meyer of Foster Drive, Romulus.

Raymond, who aspires to be an Eagle Scout, lacks only two badges to earn the coveted rank. He is a member of Boy Scout Troop 830 of the Hayti Elementary school area and a 10th grade student at Romulus Senior High School.

According to Raymond, each Wednesday between 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. and Saturdays between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

scouts will solicit funds for the project. The area he plans to cover will be bounded by Inkster, Van Born, Wayne and Ecorse roads.

The drive will be concluded during the month of December, when funds will be turned over to Help Center leaders' to the cost of unit operating costs.

Raymond's project received enthusiastic support from scouting officials.

"If he was going to do a community service project, he wanted it to be an important one," said his mother, Nan Meyer. "He talked to his scoutmaster, Denver Profit, and they thought the Help Center was extremely worthwhile."

He also plans to have canisters in area stores for contributions and will ask Hayti children bring pennies to school for an additional donation.

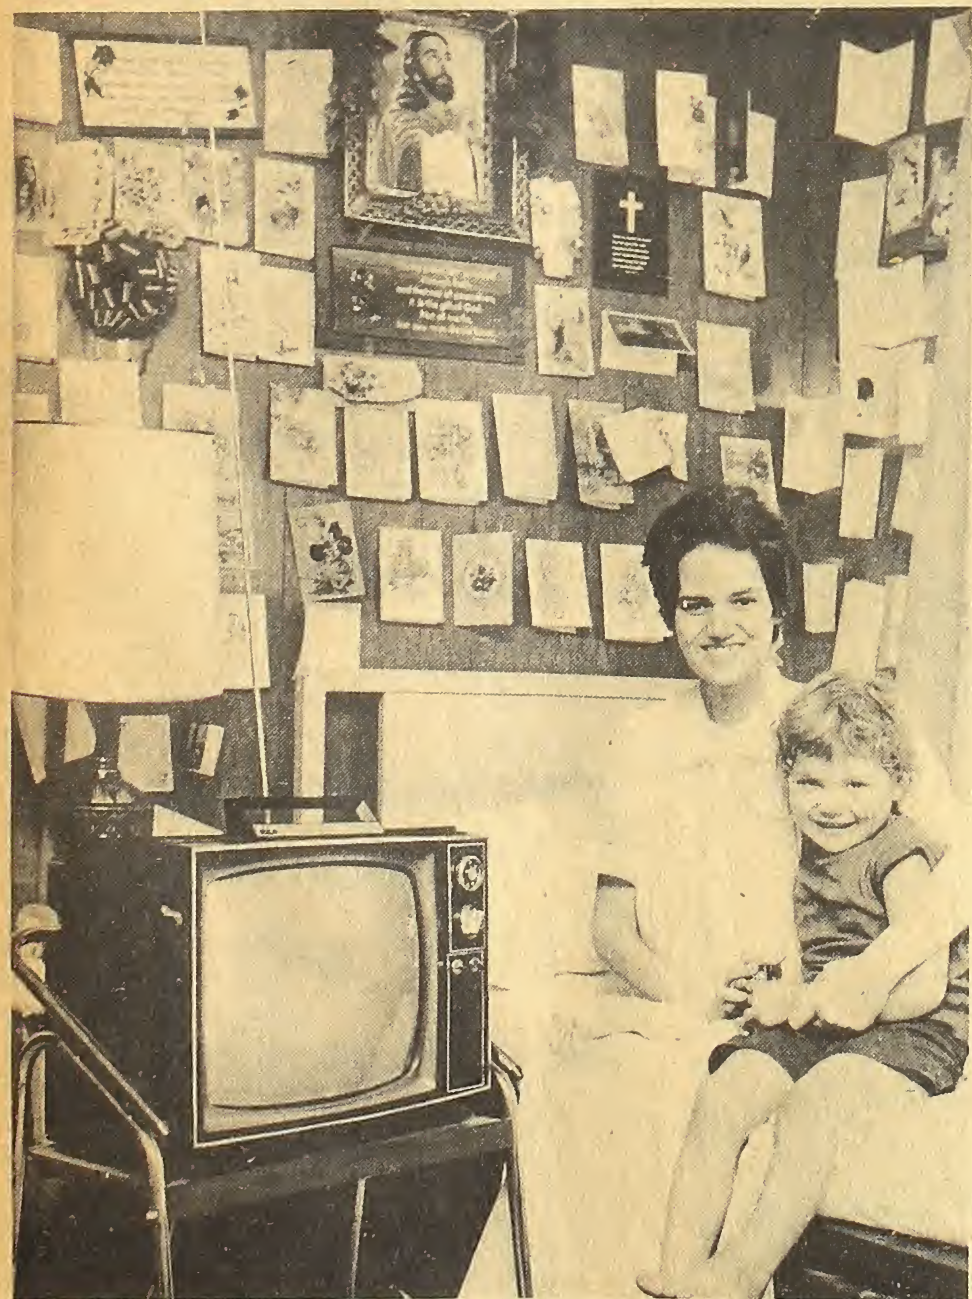

Paving hearing slated in Romulus

A public hearing on the paving of a portion of Washington Street will be held at 7 p.m. Dec. 16 at the Municipal Building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus.

The Romulus City Council scheduled the public hearing to discuss objections to the proposed street improvement. City Assessor Harold E.

Reiner was instructed to mail notices of the hearing to property owners who may be involved in the street improvement program.

The city received a petition for the paving of that portion of Washington Street lying north of lots 134 and 135, Wyndcliff Estates Subdivision.

DIES OF CANCER - Mrs. Arnold (Eva) McGinnis, 30, mother of six daughters, died last Wednesday night of cancer while being hospitalized in the Seaway Hospital, Trenton. Her condition was first diagnosed two years ago. The plight of the McGinnis family was brought to the attention of others by a neighbor. Residents of Romulus and the Belleville-Van Buren Township areas as well as service organizations assisted the family with various donations of funds, food and household items. She is shown with daughter, Rhoda, 9, amidst the many get well cards and household items which were donated.

Mrs. Eva McGinnis dies

Hopes for miracle end

Thirty-year-old Eva (Mrs. Arnold) McGinnis was buried Saturday at Highland Cemetery in Ypsilanti, bringing an end to hopes for a miracle.

She died Wednesday night at Seaway Hospital in Trenton, seven months after doctors discovered a metastasized malignancy during a gall bladder operation and gave her six months to live. She resided at 39820 Huron River Dr., Van Buren Township.

The McGinnis family, which includes six daughters between 4 and 14 years old, had denied itself all but the barest necessities during the more than two years since Eva's first diagnosis and treatment for cervical cancer in 1969.

The struggle to cope with the enormity of impending death and mounting expenses amid its sparse surroundings was brought to the attention of the community by a neighbor who asked for a miracle.

Rick Franz had asked that the community get behind the family and see it through the crisis.

Responses were so generous and heartwarming that Eva, who had a strong faith in God's will, also began to hope that she might be spared.

She received cards and encouraging messages from hundreds of people whom she never met. Funds for the family's use were established at local banks. Household appliances and conveniences were given. Clothing, furnishings and food were donated.

"I never knew people could be so kind. I didn't think anyone cared," Eva stated in August when it all began after an article appeared in the Enterprise Roman.

Despite her courage and faith, Eva's condition worsened and two weeks ago she was hospitalized for procedures to remove fluids. After a brief visit home she returned to the hospital last week for her final few days of life.

With her until the end were her husband, mother, three sisters and two brothers, who had been summoned from Florida, Georgia and Kentucky when Eva's condition became critical. Friends and neighbors kept phone vigils to hear of her condition.

Funeral arrangements were made by J.D. Martinson and Son of Trenton. Services were held at the First Baptist Church of Woodhaven, where the McGinnis were the first to be baptized as a family.

Pastor Harold Lewis, who helped Eva accept her fate and prayed with her regularly, conducted her service.

Although future plans for the family are indefinite, Rick Franz is sure of one thing. Eva's last few months were happier and more comfortable than she had ever dreamed possible. And, because he has kept a scrap book of clippings about Eva, he says that sooner or later when the little girls really begin to understand what has happened, he will be able to show them that their mother was a brave and good woman and that many people cared very much about all of them.

Romulus Head Start sponsors open house for all parents

The Romulus Community School's Head Start staff sponsored an open house at the Romulus Head Start Center, located at 7335 Washington St., Romulus.

The open house affair was held last Tuesday to give parents an opportunity to participate in the daily activities of their children and to acquaint the parents with the Head Start program. There were 48 parents in attendance at the open house.

From noon to 1 p.m., the parents met as a group to elect officers for the Head Start Center Committee for 1971-72. All parents who have children enrolled in the center are members of the committee.

The officers elected for 1971-72 are: Waverly Williams, chairman; Mary Stanczak, co-chairman; Elizabeth Justice, recording secretary; Mary Webb, corresponding secretary; James Webb, parliamentarian; Darlene Coleman, treasurer; Rebecca Del Proposto, publicity chairman; and the following policy council representatives: Theola McKay, Helen Griggs, Lorann Robinson, James Webb, Sarah England, Carol Pace. Elected Task Force Representatives were Virgie Golden and James Webb. Nellie Jackson was elected Pride Representative. Mrs. Burton reported that the center committee performs the following assignments:

1) Assists teachers, center director and all other persons responsible for the development and operation of every component, including curriculum, in the Head Start Program.

2) Works closely with Head Start staff to carry out the daily activities of the program.

3) Plans, conducts and participates in informal, as well as formal programs and activities for center parents and staff.

4) Participates in recruiting and screening of center employees within established guidelines.

Mrs. Iva Macks, parent coordinator for the Wayne County Intermediate School District Head Start Program, explained the organizational structure and duties of officers prior to the election.

The Center Committee Executive Group will meet regularly and keep all parents informed of planned meetings and activities.

Mrs. McCarthy, outgoing president of the committee, chaired the pre-election meeting.

The Head Start staff and parents thanked Mrs. McCarthy for her dedication and for a job well done.

Scouts lead meeting

Cadette scouts Linda and Tina Nagy conducted last week's activities at the meeting of Brownie Troop 664 of the Hayti Elementary School area.

The cadettes, members of Mrs. Jean Savage's Troop 409, were working toward their Game Leaders Badge that required they take complete charge of the activities of the troop for one meeting.

They had prepared 90 minutes of excitement and fun for the 20 brownies on Mrs. Mary Bozelak's troop.

At a meeting earlier in November, an investiture service was held that welcomed new brownies into the troop.

Among those accepted were Dawn Barker, Mary Brooks, Sandra Collier, Vera Ann Hansen, Margaret Harrison, Donna Mayer, Terri Morton, Sharon Nagy, Sybil Rice, Annette Schlener and Marie Taylor.

McNealy takes police chief's job after refusing it

By HENRY CANTIN

David McNealy, 40, of Romulus, former investigator for the Wayne County Prosecutor's office and former marksman narcotic agent for the U.S. Treasury Department, has "reconsidered" and accepted the appointment of Sumpter Township's first police chief.

The appointment of McNealy, who resides at 6664 Gloria St., Romulus, was made by the township during the first week of November.

A telegram sent by McNealy to the board on Nov. 9, shortly after he had applied for the police post, cited personal reasons for not accepting the post he said he was no longer interested in.

McNealy stated later that he intended to stay with the prosecutor's investigation division because of the higher pay scale and fringe benefits, including civil service.

As Sumpter Township's police chief, McNealy takes an annual salary cut of $3,000 from $13,000 to $10,000 and has no civil service status. He had been with the county prosecutor's office since Oct. 26, 1970.

The appointment of McNealy was approved by a vote of 5-1. Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi was not present at the meeting when McNealy's appointment was considered by the board.

At last week's board session, McNealy, who was requested to attend, was told his refusal to accept the post would not be accepted by the board. The board told him he would have complete charge of the police department and would report not to any individual but to the full board.

When asked why he changed his mind and accepted the police chief's job he said that pressures from the township supervisor had forced him to reject the offer. He said he was told by the supervisor that he was considered an outsider and would have no authority.

He added that he didn't want to be the center of a controversy and that he wanted to be police chief of the entire community and work for the protection of all the citizens of the township.

He disclosed that two township officials contacted him at his home on Monday of last week. They were board member Virgil Humphreys, who is also police commissioner, and Clarence H. Hoffman Jr., township clerk.

"They told me the board had refused to accept my rejection and wanted me to reconsider," McNealy said.

"I was told that I would have complete charge of the police department of nine men and was to report directly to the board. I have been in law enforcement work and wanted to get into police work. This was a challenge for me, and what impressed me was that I could do some good for the township," he explained.

McNealy also disclosed that his wife, Donna Maria had a lot to do with his accepting the post.

"If it wasn't for my wife, I don't think I would accept the job. She told me to take the job even if we have to make some sacrifices," McNealy said.

At last week's session, the board rejected demands by the township police officers to oust the new police chief. Sgt. Jerry Cox, 27, was demoted to patrolman for allegedly instigating the police officers' protest. Cox, who is president of the Sumpter Township Police Officers Association, announced Monday he will soon issue a statement. He said he wanted to confer with his attorney and meanwhile is still carrying out his assigned police duties.

Cox told the board when it was considering McNealy's appointment that the officers would walk off their jobs if McNealy was appointed police chief and if their fringe benefits demands were ignored.

He reported that "for 18 months the men had worked without a raise and without hospital benefits" and also that the "department is short of manpower." He added that the township board had told him that the township "didn't have the money to put into the police department and now it pulls this."

The board rejected the demands and on the recommendation of Police Commissioner Virgil Humphreys demoted Cox to patrolman.

MANUFACTURERS' ROMULUS BRANCH - Modern, efficient banking service is provided by four drive-in stations at the new Manufacturers Bank building at 12750 Huron River Dr., Romulus. Additional tellers are available inside the building for customers with lengthier transactions to complete. The new bank building will be dedicated next Monday morning, launching an open house that will extend through the Christmas season.

Manufacturers Bank opens Romulus branch

Manufacturers Bank will hold open house at its new Huron River Drive-Northline office building in Romulus starting Monday (Dec. 6) and lasting through the Christmas Holidays.

Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael has been invited to join George E. Gesund, who is in charge of the Huron River Drive-Northline Office of Manufacturers Bank, in launching the event Monday morning.

In announcing the formal opening, Gesund noted that the new, contemporary-styled building provides more convenient banking services to a growing community.

"It expresses the bank's faith in the future of Romulus," he said. The new building replaces a temporary banking facility at the site which is marked by the distinctive blue and white Manufacturers Bank sign.

The new building has four drive-in banking stations where customers are served by inside tellers with a pneumatic tube system. Transactions are placed in the containers, which are sealed and inserted into the tube.

Customers are able to converse with the tellers via an inter-communications system. The drive-in stations are under a roof which protects customers from the weather.

Additional teller service is available inside the building for customers with more lengthy transactions to complete. Other features include an officers' area for customers who wish to discuss banking services, a night depository and ample off-street parking.

The new building at 12750 Huron River Dr., just north of Wabash Road, will be specially decorated for Christmas. There will be free gifts for all open house visitors during the regular banking hours of 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Fridays.

As an added feature, customers during the open house will be given the opportunity to acquire a charm of Michigan bracelet. The Mackinac Bridge, Sleeping Bear Dune and Model-T are among the 12 sterling silver charms offered at $1.50 each (tax included). The bracelet, in a gold-trimmed gift box, is free with the first charm purchased.

The charms of Michigan are offered exclusively at Manufacturers Bank and will make an excellent Christmas present.

Designed by Donaldson & Meier, architects, the modern brick building was completed by Pulte Construction Co. as the general contractor.

Two trucks expected

Two new fire trucks ordered by the Van Buren Township Board are expected to arrive in the township for use by the Van Buren Township Fire Department in July, 1972.

Township Trustee Joseph Hogan, who also, is the township fire chief, reported that the two new fire trucks with special aerial and rescue equipment were ordered from American LaFrance Co of Elvira, N.Y., at a cost of $109,000.

The new trucks will operate on diesel rather than gasoline engines and have pumps which will deliver up to 1,250 gallons of water a minute.

Court of Appeals, which decided that city zoning ordinances are not subject to a referendum.

The court's ruling was made in a case involving the City of Clawson.

The amount of land zoned for multiple-family dwellings and the expansion of a mobile home park in Romulus' first zoning law prompted citizens' objections and it was defeated in a referendum vote. This zoning ordinance was adopted when Romulus was still a township.

In granting the city's motion for dismissal, the court said: "The court, therefore, finds that the City of Romulus is an agent of the state, and a creature of the legislature; that there is no provision for initiative and referendum having been expressly granted to the cities by the Constitution of 1963, by the Home Rule Act, or by legislative enactment, and therefore, no right of referendum as to zoning ordinances exists in a Home Rule City."

Requests okayed to build in area

The City Council of Romulus has approved two citizens' requests to build in the Wayne-Beverly roads Urban Renewal area.

The requests were made by Henry Warren of 6771 Dexter St., Romulus, and Rev. Lovell Wooden, representing The House of God Church, Romulus.

future. George Wilhelmi, UR director, reported.

Warren's request involved land next to his residence which he owns and wants to rebuild.

The House of God Church, presently located at Beverly Road and Carnegie, wants to construct a new church adjacent to its present facilities.

In our opinion

Why are 32 members of PCHA board still?

Elsewhere in this newspaper, we have published the results of a six-part questionnaire sent to the 46 members of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) Board of Directors.

The results include answers from 14 board members, representing eight of PCHA's 23 member communities. All of which causes us to wonder why the other 32 board members, who supposedly represent 21 communities, failed to respond.

We find it difficult to believe that time was the reason since our questionnaire was first mailed on Sept. 22 - 10 weeks ago - with a second request being mailed Nov. 4, almost a month ago.

We tend to believe the verbal answer given by one of the board members at the September board meeting. She said "I'm a politician. I can't possibly answer those questions."

It's almost as if the non-responding members were afraid to let their constituents know how they (the 32 members failing to respond) stand on the activities of a multi-million dollar operation that draws some of its financial backing by taxing residents of the 23 member communities.

The questions, listed with the published answers on another page, were drawn up by two members of this newspaper staff, including the editor, for the precise purpose of trying to clear some of the air that has clouded the operations of the current PCHA administration.

We felt that such a questionnaire would allow members of both of the board's factions to state publicly and responsibly their views of the PCHA's operations. Several board members have claimed in the past that the PCHA administration is guilty of much wrong-doing. However, they have been reluctant to offer proof.

We realize that none of the board members were obligated to respond to our questionnaire. Members, other than those elected at large by the board itself are really responsible to their local community governmental bodies.

However, their failure to take advantage of telling their constituents "how it really is" makes us believe that they - the non-responding members - don't want their respective communities to know what they, as members of the board, are doing.

We feel that the respective communities should be aware of the goings on of PCHA since the authority is partially supported by the tax-paying members of the 23 member communities.

Now that we have published the responses, our hopes are twofold - (1) that local governmental bodies will take a closer look at the activities of their respective board members, some of whom are rarely seen at the regular monthly board meetings, and (2) that individual citizens will ask their respective board members, especially those who failed to respond publicly, just what they as board members are doing to oversee PCHA operations.

Those who failed to respond are also listed on the other page, along with the names of their respective communities.

Individual members' addresses are available at the PCHA administration building in Wayne. In addition, correspondence to any of them could be directed to the administration building. Meeting attendance records also are available.

Maybe if we can't get the responses that you, as tax-paying citizens, should have, you can.

Speaking of schools

Young people must be equipped

By BYRON K. ANTCLIFF Superintendent of Huron School District

One of the greatest challenges to face Michigan educators will soon occur. In July, 1971, Governor Milliken signed into law a bill lowering the age of majority from 21 to 18 years of age, which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1972.

No individual or group will feel the impact to the extent that schools will.

Most of the concerns, at this time, deal with student conduct guidelines. To be sure this will present a number of problems to every local school district as well as the community at large. There also will be an initial upsurge of problems undoubtedly.

People that had contemplated certain privileges coming to them at age 21 will now enjoy those privileges at age 18. For many, this will have the affect of a tight rubber band breaking, and they will be unable to handle the responsibilities.

But let's not fool ourselves. A large number of individuals have always had problems in handling responsibilities and in participating in experiences even when they did not have the legal right to do so. In most cases, it simply will be an excess of participation or a lack of knowledge that is needed to participate in the experience. Many will point to this and say, "See I told you they weren't ready to buy things on credit, they weren't ready to drink alcoholic beverages, they weren't ready to vote, etc."

But let's remember that there already are credit bureau agencies whose sole function is to deal with adults who do not know how to handle credit. There have always been people who have purchased things foolishly, who did not have the will power to say no to a high powered salesman. No one has ever suggested that we wait until the person is 50 and really knows how to handle high pressure salesmen.

The real challenge in all of this lies with an educational process which recognizes the problem is an immediate one. As soon as the student graduates from school, or even before, in some cases, he must know how to handle responsibility.

The real benefit of the new age of majority may well be that schools will have to face problems which they have not regarded as theirs in the past.

It has always been the schools' responsibility to help an individual become a responsible voter, to become wise in personal financial matters and not to indulge in excess which are harmful in any form of living. And yet, I suspect our approach has basically been to feel that the 3 years between 18 and 21 allow the student to gain the maturity to handle such responsibilities.

We all operate under the mistaken idea that people mature mentally and emotionally the same as they do physically. That is to say, there is little that can be done to stop a person from growing physically if given proper nutrition. We think simply by living for a certain number of years, the person matures.

Mental and emotional maturity does not occur in that fashion, however. It only occurs when an individual has the appropriate experiences which allow him to gain new knowledge about himself, about others, about governmental structure, and most of all, what type of a life the person chooses to live.

Hopefully, in months to come, we will not point to a few careless examples and say that the law is wrong. But rather we will look and say what can we do to better equip people to live in the world today. It will take more than time to tell that answer and it will take action programs on the part of every school and community.

Our readers write

Women 'see red' over complaint about drapes

To the editor:

The nasty little remarks that people sometimes make make you stop and wonder what this world and people's morals are coming to.

What we're getting at is no matter what you do, someone always has something to say about it. Well freedom of speech is a wonderful thing, but freedom in itself is much more wonderful.

The incident that has taken place makes you wonder if there is such a thing as freedom left in Belleville.

Now our story begins. We rent an apartment. Well, we always considered ourselves respectable women and mothers. As far as we knew, other people felt we were too. Now we are informed that our landlord received a telephone call from a city official in regards to our new red drapes.

We don't have much money and we have to save for sometimes a lengthy time for every little thing we want to make our lives and home a little brighter and more comfortable to live in.

We purchased for our apartment two very beautiful red throw rugs. They brightened up the entire atmosphere. We then decided that red drapes would set it all off just perfect. So we saved enough money for the purchase of these drapes.

Now we are told that we either buy white window shades or the red drapes will have to come down. We aren't trying to be obstinate in anyway. We are very easy going people. But we just don't have the extra money for the white shades. So, we are now giving to the complainant a choice, which we believe is as fair as the one we were offered.

If this person would like to purchase the white shades for our windows, we would be more than happy to hang them. If not, all we can do is offer our deepest apology and leave the red drapes hanging.

This is 1971 and, as the years go by, people and times change. So why do people still look down on red in a window? In our minds and opinions, the only people who think evil of others are really evil themselves. I wonder if anyone will have any comments to make about our red light bulbs for Christmas. Christ died for us and His blood was red, so why is everyone so down on the color?

It's a beautiful color and that is all. Anything else thought about red is only in the individual's mind.

'IF ECUADOR CAN DO IT, WHY CAN'T I?'

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

Dec. 1, 1946 - Wayne school buses in the northwest section of the district have been rerouted to accommodate those students who were required to walk long distances to the regular bus stop.

Mr. and Mrs. O.C. Glover left for San Antonio, Texas, where they will spend the winter. Residents of Wayne for many years, the Glovers are brother-in-law and sister respectively of Walter Blackwell, Sr.

Due to the coal strike, which is paralyzing the entire county, local mail has been arriving late. Romulus Postmaster G.W. Herzog explained. One train, which formerly brought mail to Romulus, has been discontinued entirely. Mail is now arriving on a Flyer which normally runs one hour later and previously made no stops at all. It now stops at many local places, making it even later than usual.

15 YEARS AGO

Dec. 1, 1956 - The Wayne-Nankin library board learned

ONE YEAR AGO

Dec. 1, 1970 - Harry Howard, superintendent of the

that it would receive no help from the Wayne County Library system in equipping and furnishing the new library.

Miss Margaret Boyd, 976 Gulley, Inkster, was among 75 top students initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, national Honor Society in education, at Michigan State University. The initiates were addressed by Dr. Ernest O. Melby, dean emeritus of education at New York University, who is serving as a distinguished visiting professor at MSU.

Recently an entirely new city post was created. For the first time, Garden City has a full time recreation director in Max. C. Brown, who was chosen from several candidates for his outstanding ability and fine reputation in directing other recreation programs.

The Romulus Township School District has applied to the federal government for federal aid funds to finance construction of a new elementary school, School Superintendent William Simmons said.

Wayne Community Schools, released more figures on the recent administrative pay increases in the district.

At the school board meeting, 82 administrators were granted an average 3.89 per cent increase, the second time since September for a total 7.32 increase.

Michigan's youngest state senator in history met with the Cherry Hill School Board. State Senator elect, David Plawecki, the recent winner over Sen. Loraine Beebe, told the board that they could furnish him with their advice during his term of office.

Members of the administration of Westland and members of the Westland Hockey Association did not appear too happy at dedication of Westland's new permanent ice facility. It seems old man winter took a day off and the balmy temperatures and sunshine made it impossible for rink attendants to keep the ice surface usable.

the salaries of remedial reading teachers throughout the elementary and secondary school systems, it limited the assistance to grades 4 through 12.

There was concern among school administrators, teachers and parents, who felt that it was important to catch reading deficiencies when the student was in early grades and before patterns are set in the learning process of the child.

The House, therefore, has overwhelmingly passed and sent to the Senate a bill which would once more offer state aid for remedial reading through all grades.

One of today's most serious traffic problems is the one that comes in a bottle. It is a problem which each year causes tragic and unnecessary deaths, injuries and tremendous property damage.

The legislature has moved to meet this challenge by approval of a bill to lower the amount of alcohol in the blood for a person to be legally classified as a drunk driver.

By a vote of 84-9, the House approved a Senate-passed bill permitting arrest for intoxication if a person has .10 per cent alcohol in his bloodstream. The present level is .15 per cent.

The bill also lowers the level for presumption of impaired driving—a lesser offense—from the present .10 per cent to .07 per cent alcohol.

This legislation, which has been sent to the Governor for his signature, would become effective 90 days after the legislature adjourns for the year.

Statistics have shown that one to four per cent of the drivers on the road—those with blood alcohol concentrations at or over .10 per cent—are accounting for 50 to 55 per cent of all single vehicle crashes in which the drivers are fatally injured.

Forty-five per cent of the "innocent-not-at-fault" drivers are killed by drinking drivers. The drinking driver runs into others four times as often as he is hit by someone else.

Michigan is one of 45 states that have implied consent laws. These laws, which have stood up under hundreds of court challenges say that when a person is issued a driver's license and drives a motor vehicle he agrees to take a chemical test to determine sobriety if arrested and charged with being under the influence of alcohol. If the motorist refuses to take the test he faces loss of his license. This law went into effect in Michigan in 1967.

In the last several years, the Secretary of State, police officials and safety organizations have contended that the .15 per cent blood-alcohol level is too liberal and that the law would be more effective if it was lowered to .10 per cent. Twenty-four other states have reduced the presumed drunk level to .10 per cent. One state has an .08 per cent level as does Canada. A number of European countries have even lower limits.

Includes returnable bottle law

Governor signs bills into law

A series of bills which cleared the legislature in its fall session have been signed into law by the governor. The new public acts go into such areas as returnable bottles, district courts, state park fees, inspection of deer meat and workmen's compensation, State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) reported Monday.

The Returnable bottle bill will require that all retailers who sell beer and soft drinks in deposit bottles also redeem those bottles. This legislation was brought about by consumer complaints that many stores that sell beverages in returnable bottles are refusing to accept the same bottles for redemption. The buyer must either hunt around to find a store that will take them, or else throw the bottles away and lose his deposit, consumers have stated.

Under this new law, retailers will have to redeem only those brands of bottles that they sell. The law applies only to beverages sold for off-premise consumption, Mahalak said.

There is another advantage to the new public act. Non-returnable bottles have created serious litter and pollution problems. This new act will encourage consumers to use the returnable bottles once they know they will not have a hard time finding a store that will redeem them. One of the new acts increases the jurisdiction of district courts from $3,000 to $10,000. Formerly, lawsuits involving more than $3,000 had to be tried in circuit courts.

There are a number of benefits to this new law, Mahalak said. It will provide better service to the citizens who use the lower courts. They can take their cases to courts nearer their homes, rather than have to travel to the county's circuit court. While the circuit courts are located in one position in the county seat, district courts are commonly located in a number of communities in an urban county.

The increase in district court jurisdiction reflects the increased value of the inflated dollar, which has meant that more civil cases are exceeding the $3,000 limit and being channeled into circuit court. This has resulted in heavy backlogs of cases in many of the circuit courts.

Another of the bills signed by the governor increases annual state park vehicle permits from $3 to $5 a year. The additional revenue is needed if we are to expand, improve and adequately maintain our state park system, Mahalak said. One important feature of this bill is a provision which allows senior citizens to buy annual park permits for just $1.

Daily Park permits will be set by the Natural Resources Commission but cannot exceed $1 for resident motor vehicles and $2 for non-residents. The act states that non-resident fees may be set at $1 in all except "border" parks where non-resident use is exceptionally high. In those parks the fee can be set at $2 a day.

Weight group hold luncheon

"Everything You've Always Wanted to Know About Fat" is the theme of a special staff luncheon Saturday, Dec. 4, at the Royalty House, 8201 Thirteen Mile Rd., Warren, which is being hosted by Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan Inc., and Weight Watchers of Central Michigan Inc.

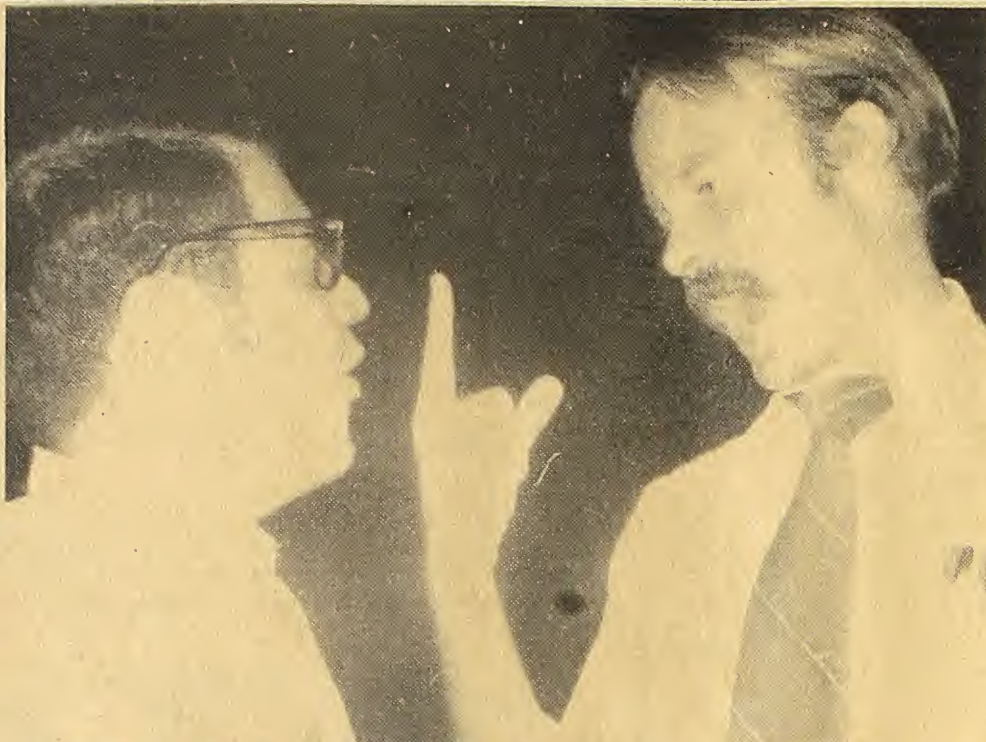

Preceding the luncheon, area directors and staff members of the local weight control organization will be advised about the development of weight reduction programs for use by Weight Watchers members. Guest speaker will be Fay Burnett, nutritionist for Weight Watchers International Inc.

Miss Burnett, a former nutritionist and product representative for General Foods, has worked extensively with Dr. William H. Sebrell Jr., recently appointed medical advisor to Weight Watchers International, in developing a sound nutritional eating program based on the most recent research and findings available.

The luncheon will also highlight a discussion directed by Dr. Sonya Friedman, well known psychologist, on the psychological problems experienced by overweight people.

"This information session conducted by these two well-known experts, is designed to inform all of our staff, including our lecturers, clerks and weighers, on the latest developments in the field of weight control," said Mrs. Florine Mark, president of Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan Inc.

A TYPICAL SCENE - The Belleville Community Players are presenting "Never Too Late" at the Belleville Senior High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Dec. 17 and 18. Two of

Grease Paint...

By KIM HOGAN

On Dec. 17 and 18 the Belleville Community Players will present "Never Too Late" at the Belleville High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission is $1.

Rehearsals are well under way and lines memorized. All parts are now cast.

During the first few rehearsals of a play, not all the furniture needed to put on the play is available, and substitutes are used. Last week while rehearsing act 2, scene 1, Katie (Sandy

...and Spotlights

Bacome) leaned over to kiss Charlie (Dick Porter) and two chairs representing the couch separated and Kate ended up sitting on the floor, looking out over a small group of laughing faces.

Sandy, a junior at Belleville High School, enjoys drama and hopes to someday

The main characters are as follows: Scrooge, Doug Wysoki; Bob Kratchet, John Harrison; Mrs. Kratchet, Charlotte Nutt; Ghost of Christmas Past, Reni Johnson; Ghost of Christmas Present, Linda Bonani; Ghost of Things Yet to Come, Vanessa Hall; Marley, David Prouty; Fred (Scrooge's nephew), David Wood; Tiny Tim, Jerry Little.

The fifth and sixth grade Edgemont Drama Club, as a Christmas gift to the community for its past support and encouragement, are presenting "Rumpelstiltskin" on Monday, Dec. 6, "The Indian Captive" on Wednesday, Dec. 8 and "Not Even a Mouse" on Friday, Dec. 10.

All plays will be presented in Edgemont School's multipurpose room at 7:30 p.m. Please come share an evening with us, seriously study the fine arts.

The Christmas float will begin construction at George Bacome's home at 46507 Bemis Rd., and will ride in the parade on Dec. 4. Those representing the players in the parade will be Sandy Bacome, Jon Hale, Dick Porter and Vivian Wallace.

"Mr. Scrooge Finds Christmas," will be presented at Elwell School on Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. by the fifth and sixth grade drama club and the third and fourth grade choir. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Judie Adams, who has attended Eastern Michigan University and studied under drama coach Mrs. Virginia Kopte. Mrs. Melissa Costello, who wrote this play from the original story, "A Christmas Carol," is providing the musical half of this well known and loved story.

Owners of shop still same

The Sun & Snow Sports Shop, located at Fourth and Main streets, Belleville, is still under the ownership and management of William Peterson and Ron Hink, both of Belleville.

It was previously reported that the shop was under new management according to information received by Belleville Enterprise.

Mrs. John Hink of 12520 Stanley St., Belleville, reported Wednesday that there are possible management changes under consideration.

Secretary's Belleville branch moves

The Belleville branch of the Secretary of State's office is now located at John Barber Inc., 574 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

The branch office was formerly located in the old township hall, Michigan and Fourth.

The old township hall is now the headquarters of the Belleville Enterprise.

'Fiddler' is a must for the holiday season

The Mirisch Production Company presents a United Artists release, "Fiddler on the Roof," produced and directed by Norman Jewison, screenplay by Joseph Stein from his stage musical and the Tevye stories of Sholom Aleichem music by Jerry Bock, lyrics by Sheldon Harnick, adapted and conducted by John Williams, choreography by Jerome Robbins, adapted for the screen by Tom Abbot, violin solo by Isaac Stern, photographed by Oswald Morris. Panavision color. Rated G. 181 minutes plus intermission. At the Northland Theatre on a reserved seat basis with the following cast: Topol, Norma Crane, Leonard Frey, Molly Picon, Paul Mann

Rosalind Harris, Michele Marsh, Neva Small, Michael Glaser, Raymond Lovelock

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Some time next spring "Fiddler on the Roof" will pass "Life With Father" as the longest running show in the history of Broadway and countless companies have played throughout the world yet such are the limitations of the legitimate stage as a mass media that most people have not yet seen "Fiddler." What a treat they have in store for them!

There has never been any more effective chronicler of the Jews than Sholom Aleichem, who wrote of the traditional European Jews of the ghetto and village. Tevye, a dairyman with five daughters (it was really seven), is his most famous protagonist, a dirt-poor, devout and witty man, who struggled against the fates which have beset the Jews for centuries.

In adapting the stories for the stage Joseph Stein emphasized the traditions which provided the adhesions which kept Jewish life together in the face of eons of anti-Semitism. The erosions of these traditions are depicted by the marriages of the daughters of Tevye.

The eldest Tzeitel (Rosalind Harris), despite an arranged match with the wealthy but crude butcher Lazar Wolf (Paul Mann), pledges herself to a poor tailor Motel (Leonard Frey). The second Hodel (Michele Marsh), will marry a Bolshevik Perchik (Michael Glaser), without her father's permission. The third Chava (Neva Small), marries outside the faith. Finally, a pogrom forces the upheaval of the entire village—but Tevye will survive because he takes his faith with him.

The rich warmth and humor has successfully survived the transition from stage to film; author Joseph Stein adapted his own work, cinematographically expanding his horizons without sacrificing his story.

Some of the best musical numbers, for example, are no longer set pieces, but played against their natural surroundings. Tevye sings "If I Were a Rich Man" as he tends his stock; the daughters sing "Matchmaker, Matchmaker" as they take in the wash; and the prologue "Tradition" is no longer staged but a panoramic representation of the entire village.

The beautiful "Sunrise, Sunset," the dignified "Sabbath Prayer" and the rousing "L'chaim" are all intact with Jerome Robbins choreography artfully adapted for the screen by Tom Abbot.

The Israeli Chain Topol is Tevye; if he lacks Zero Mostel's rich sense of comedy he more than makes up for it by a deeper and more moving interpretation of the buffeted Tevye. Most effective are the first pair of lovers, the timid Motel, Leonard Frey, and his spunky bride, Rosalind Harris. Norma Crane, as Tevye's wife Golde, and Molly Picon as the noisy matchmaker, Yente, approach their roles more broadly.

If a quarrel with "Fiddler" there must be, it is with the set of Michael Stringer. In his effort to capture the essence of Sholom Aleichem, the rich colors he uses unrelentingly sacrificed color. A technique is effective only so long as it is not noticed and ultimately "Fiddler" cries out for relief from the somber tones.

But it is a minor point in what is undoubtedly a candidate for a large bag of Oscars and certainly the must show of the holiday season.

COMING THURSDAY - Strange Uncle Julian expounds upon his plight in the Wayne Memorial High School version of "We Have Always Lived in the Castle" which premieres Thursday in the high school auditorium. Listening to Uncle Julian, who is played by George Kapetan, are his nieces played by Mary Cieply (from left) and Patti Farmer and two socialites played by Jane Carter and Christy Pulk. The play will be presented Thursday through Saturday at 8:15 p.m. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

'The French Connection'-- exciting, unsentimental film

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

Movie chases are not honest. They are choreographed as carefully as an Agnes de Mille ballet and most of the time they look it. Even the famous chase in "Bullitt" could not entirely shake free from the feeling of unreality.

Not so the case in "The French Connection," a tough, grinding chase through New York streets after an elevated subway line with the horrors of New York traffic continually conspiring to end the chase in disaster, as is ever the wont of New York traffic.

If the chase is tough, so is the entire film, an exciting but unsentimental examination of how one of New York's biggest narcotics raids in history was set up loosely fictionalized by Ernest ("Shaft") Tidyman from the book by Robin ("Green Berets") Moore.

It is not unusual for films to seek authoritative technical advice and director William Friedkin's advisors were the actual New York policemen involved in the case, Eddie Egan and Sonny Grosso, who also took minor roles in the film (and possibly embarrassed the professional actors by handling them too well), Egan as the narcotics squad head and Grosso as a federal agent.

Gene Hackman and Roy Scheider play the policemen and Hackman's portrait of a gut-hunter and corner-cutting cop with unwashed feet is perfect in its ugliness. Scheider's brains complement Hackman's instincts.

The narcotic dealers include Fernando Rey as a suave and polished Frenchman, Marcel Bozzuffi as the killer (he was also the killer in "Z") and Tony LoBianco as the hustling American go-between.

The plot is the least significant portion of the film, which is basically honest since few actually police case are considerate enough to develop with the fiction-readers in mind.

PCHA board responds to questions

JOHN L. O'BRIEN
(Member-at-large)

1. No.
2. Yes.
3. Yes.
4. No.
5. Yes.
6. Yes.

KENNETH L. MURRAY
(City of Westland)

1. Definitely not. Mr. Gremore has had his day in court before Judge Theodore Bohn (1969). The judge has ruled that Mr. Gremore misappropriated state funds and engaged in illegal conduct while director of PCHA. I feel the board was justified in terminating his contract.

2. Yes. I feel that the financial affairs of PCHA have been handled properly, due to the leadership of our Comptroller E. J. Mathia and our Lay Finance Committee made up of board members headed by their chairman, Mr. R. J. Remer, an accountant; the continuing audit by Arthur Young and Company, CPA, and written audit reports the state has been and still is receiving. I feel this system of check and double check keeps PCHA financial affairs in very proper order.

3. Yes. The board member has a chance to review an expenditure at the committee level, again at the Operating Committee and finally vote at the full board level.

4. No, quite the contrary. The board can be more unwieldy when about a third of the board members do not show up for regular board meetings, or do not make their individual committee level meetings that are crucial to an intelligent vote at the full board, thereby losing precious time and money on projects.

5. This is a very good idea. I feel one reason for many unexcused absences is the number of elected officials on the board who serve their communities in a dual role. When there are frequent conflicts in scheduling between elected duties and board attendance, I feel that board member should finish his position to an interested lay man from his community so that his community will not be deprived of beneficial board action. The number of unexcused absences should be determined by the board.

6. After meeting their legal and financial obligation that they incurred when their community joined the PCHA, they should be allowed to withdraw after examining their situation at that point in time to see their capability of supplying total health care and future medical needs for their residents.

ROBERTS. WILDISH
(City of Garden City)

1. I do not feel that under any circumstances the 23 communities would benefit by the reinstatement of Mr. Kenneth W. Gremore, and as a member of the board from Garden City, I would oppose this vigorously.

2. As an accountant, I feel that the fiscal affairs and the financial stability of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority is probably the greatest that it ever has been in its entire history and it continues to grow and prosper under the current management team.

3. The board of directors, although being large, functions well through its various committees. I feel that the board is better informed than most boards, and the individual directors can receive answers to any questions they may ask.

4. Although a smaller board might function with fewer committees, I do not feel the reduction in size alone would enhance the body.

5. As to whether directors should be replaced after missing a number of meetings, I feel that no one should accept an assignment unless he is willing to serve. I feel that unless there is extenuating circumstances why the person cannot attend, this person should be replaced by his community.

6. With regard to how I feel that member communities be allowed to withdraw if they so desire, this to me seems utterly ridiculous since the community is obligated for any bond issues outstanding at the time of withdrawal and would be required to levy the four tenths of one mill until those bond issues are terminated.

I cannot believe that, in today's society and the importance that is placed

What, why of questionnaire

Because of the continuing controversy and friction within the board of directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA), The Daily Eagle has felt a growing responsibility to determine for its readers how the dissension affects the operations of the hospital facilities those readers support.

With this thought in mind, we sent a six-part questionnaire to each of the 46 PCHA board members on Sept. 22 and followed with a duplicate list of the same six questions on Nov. 4. We promised to print the responses verbatim which we are doing today in the order in which they were received. We have corrected only the spelling when necessary.

The questions:
1. Do you support the continuing efforts of Kenneth W. Gremore to regain a position with the hospital authority?

upon medical care, any community for such a small per capita assessment could seriously consider withdrawing from the authority.

DONALD J. PIZZIMENTI
(Member-at-large, chairman of PCHA Board of Directors)

1. No. Mr. Gremore's managerial performance was reviewed by the board of directors in October, 1965. On the basis of that review, the board decided to discharge Mr. Gremore. In the civil suit brought against the board for its action, Circuit Court Judge T. Bohn stated in his decision that the board had been justified in its action. I believe it was a proper action.

2. I believe the financial affairs of the authority have been properly handled. The evidence to support this opinion is demonstrated in the fact that we have been able to continue to expand to meet the medical needs of the people within our service area while at the same time being able to keep our costs lower than any hospital within our general area of service.

That we have handled our financial affairs in a reasonable fashion is attested to by the fact that investors were willing to purchase $18,000,000.00 in bonds which we issued for constructing the new Beyer Hospital and adding to Seaway Hospital. It should also be noted that we are able to pay for our new Central Laundry, which will reduce costs, without the need for a bond issue.

3. Yes. The budget of the authority is presented to the board members annually for review and approval. All expenditures are reviewed through an annual audit. Other than those incidental expenses handled in the individual hospitals, all authority expenses, including budget and non-budget capital purchase, are reviewed at the regular board meeting. It is not possible in an enterprise with a budget close to $40,000.00 for board members to review every individual expenditure. However, of our total budget, about 85 per cent is actually approved by the entire board at regular meetings. This includes, of course, all wages and salaries.

4. A board of our size can be unwieldy. There are legitimate arguments both pro and con on this matter. However, I believe that we can, and do, work well through our standing committee structure and can appropriately use all of the board members in an effective way. The organization, as it exists, presents the opportunity for proper community representation and effective involvement in the authority's decision-making process. A number of other hospitals and health agencies are now expanding their boards to permit broader, more effective community representation in their activities.

5. Each community must make its own evaluation as to the standards they require of their representatives. Because of the complexity of hospital affairs, it would be desirable to have a continuity of membership and a regularity of attendance. Without this, it is difficult to achieve effective standing committee activity. Most importantly, the community appointing members to the board does not receive the representation it properly deserves.

6. No. There are legal and practical reasons for prohibiting communities to withdraw. Each of the 23 communities has a legal and financial responsibility to one another. If a community can arbitrarily withdraw without the approval of the other communities, a chaotic situation could become possible, jeopardizing the authority's ability to continue to grow to meeting growing needs within the area.

PCHA was formed to meet the health care needs of those communities who could not afford such investments on an individual community basis. By joining together, the PCHA member communities have been able to meet those needs with ever increasing ability. Since 1957, PCHA has constructed 993 hospital beds as well as all of the supportive services necessary to provide a modern health care facility for our members. We recently completed a central laundry and are currently planning and able to finance an improvement in the radiology, pathology, physical medicine and out-patient services for both Annapolis and Outer Drive hospitals and to provide a fifth PCHA Hospital to be located in the City of Taylor. We now provide medical care services to over 30 per cent of the people in our area who require hospital care. We are responsible for construction of almost 50 per cent of the total beds added in our service area since 1957.

PCHA was formed to meet health needs in our area. The board has attempted, with reasonable success, to achieve that purpose. We are able and can continue to meet that goal through an integrated organization whose members all assume their full responsibility to continue to dedicate themselves to meet unmet medical care needs. The reasons which prompted the organization of PCHA continue today.

REV. R.R. RIVES
(City of Garden City)

1. I do not support the efforts of Mr. Gremore to regain a position with the hospital authority. I was a member of the board which discharged Mr. Gremore and cast my vote for his discharge after very grave deliberation and becoming convinced of the validity of the serious charges being made. To reverse this action would be a serious violation of the trust given me to serve the public to their best interests.

2. I am very sure that the financial affairs of PCHA have been handled properly honestly, and responsibly. I believe them to be in the hands of responsible men of integrity.

3. The board members are kept very well abreast of expenditures. Full information is available. Never have I been refused an answer to any question I have been asked, whether it be a financial question or otherwise. The board functions through a committee system and men of integrity that have the capability for financial matters are handling such. It is best for me to trust such men than to delve into that which I do not have the training and experience. I do

2. Do you feel that the financial affairs of PCHA have been handled properly?

3. Do you feel that board members are kept well enough abreast of expenditures and act on the majority of them at regular board meetings?

4. Do you feel that the board, at its present size, is unwieldy?

5. Do you feel the board should automatically request community leaders to replace their representatives after a fixed number of unexcused absences from board meetings? What should that number be?

6. Do you feel that member communities should be allowed to withdraw from PCHA if they so desire?

have strengths in other directions where others trust me.

4. The problem with the board is not its size, but the short tenure of the members. Almost every board meeting, there is a new member. It takes close to a year for a member to be a really effective board member, so some method needs to be found to make electing bodies realize the need for experience in order to make a board effective. This is the urgent need to make more effective the board of directors.

5. My feeling is that the government should be on long tenure of men and women really interested in good hospital care.

6. Yes, provided that (1) they assume their pro rata part of the indebtedness of the authority and (2) relinquish their right to representatives on the Board and (3) their people immediately begin paying 20 per cent surcharge of non-members on their hospital bills.

PATRICK J. NORTON
(City of Wayne)

1. No. Mr. Gremore was duly relieved of his responsibilities by the board of directors of the hospital authority in 1965. In his efforts to regain his position through lawsuits and to be reimbursed financially, he has only done the hospital authority further damage. His innuendoes and charges during the past five years have only created an atmosphere of mistrust in the minds of many citizens who are unable to keep informed as to the total picture regarding his past performance and his present accusations. Mr. Gremore, of course, is welcome to his opinions and at liberty to say whatever he chooses. However, his sensationalisms should be taken lightly by a responsible public.

2. Yes. Certainly any corporation the size and scope of the PCHA will have minor difficulties brought about by a complex system of auditing and supervisory judgments. However, it is my opinion the PCHA is one of the finest and best run public agencies in the state of Michigan. I believe that current evaluations by state agencies will prove this point.

3. In answering this question, I would have to say that all the information needed to keep abreast of the workings of the hospital authority are available to each and every board member who would choose to take a great amount of his personal time to dig into all the reports printed by the PCHA. The board should act as a group of trustees would at any large corporation and make themselves aware of as much of the operation as possible, keeping in mind that it's a parttime responsibility. In any position such as this, a lot of faith and trust and good judgment must be placed in the administrators hired and directed by the board to operate the authority on a fulltime basis.

4. No. The many sub-committees needed to evaluate and study the operations of the authority in a responsible manner dictate that the board should be this size if the position is to be a parttime responsibility. However, if in the future the state would choose to change the board so that the member communities might elect individuals who are non-public office holding to serve as a member of the board of directors and be reimbursed for his efforts, then I believe the board size could be reduced because each individual could then take on a greater share of the responsibilities.

5. I do not feel the board should have this responsibility. I believe that community. It should be an elected member of a council or the mayor of a participating community. Even I, who am a member at large, have no redress to anyone but a majority of the board.

5. No member of the board is responsible for the other member being put on the board, so I don't think it's our responsibility. Every community should be interested enough to know the operations and attendance of its representatives.

6. Yes, I do. Every community has its own problems. The city of Dearborn Heights is an example. It gets no benefit from the authority. The authority was responsible for providing hospital care and facilities. They are now built and established. I feel private organizations should have the responsibility for operating them. Every community should be relieved of the assessments they now pay. Every community would also be given its fair share by what they contributed as their assessment. In that way, that could these take care of their needs.

TIMOTHY J. DYER
(City of Ypsilanti)

1. To my knowledge, Mr. Gremore has not, overtly, expressed any interest in regaining a position with the authority. However, if he did, I would actively oppose and vote against any attempt by him to become once again employed by the PCHA.

I was not a member of the board at the time Mr. Gremore was terminated, however, the information that I have would indicate that the action was justified and that nothing new has come to light which should change the present board in its thinking.

2. Yes. An examination of the books by the attorney general's office and an examination by highly competent CPA's, plus, the expert review of Mr. Remer, the board's treasurer, reveal that we are in excellent financial shape.

3. I believe there is no impropriety in the way that we have handled and dispensed funds and, in fact, we are financially quite solvent. I would personally favor an examination by any competent and impartial body to review our books. I think that a third party, such as the attorney general or the governor might be the proper parties to appoint such a body for possible examination. I think that this would be helpful in eliminating any question or suspicion that might exist.

4. If board members are not kept abreast of them, it is their own fault. There is plenty of information available. They have the right to examine all of the financial records and any impropriety should be brought to the attention of the board. In fact, a few of the antagonists at board meetings have been asked by myself and other members of the board to come up with specific proposals. On a couple of occasions these antagonistic board members have waved envelopes saying that they have all of that information and will reveal it at the proper time. But that proper time never seems to roll around. Again I invite any person who has any particular set of facts that would reveal any impropriety in the expenditure of funds to make that known. If this is found to be true they would have my support in seeing that the irresponsible parties be punished and removed from their position. However, it becomes very obvious when they refuse to bring such facts and information forward that their motives are not really to safeguard the expenditure of funds but are much more politically founded and there is no question that an ulterior motive is their real thrust.

4. Recently, I have changed my views on this subject. I was of the opinion for most of the time that I have served on the board, which is some six years, that the size was not unwieldy and that it was a workable group. However, I now believe that is part of our problem. We rarely have more than just the bare minimum for a quorum. Many times we are held up from commencing our meetings until phone calls are made to get absent members to attend. I really believe that a smaller board, appointed by an independent third party would be a much wiser and a more responsible agency.

5. Yes, I think that this is an excellent idea. I would suggest that an absence from twenty to twenty-five per cent of the meetings, if they are unexcused, should be grounds for dismissal. In fact I would go even further to say that, if absenteeism even for excused reasons was excessive - perhaps excessive would be 40 per cent - they should be removed. If they are unable to make meetings for quite legitimate reasons, it should be an indication that those individuals are overextended and should relinquish their seats on the board to those who are not so involved in community activities and can afford the time to attend.

6. Yes, by all means. But, I also support the Supreme Court ruling, if I understand it correctly that they must liquidate all of the liabilities the authority has incurred while they were a member. It means that you would never be able to improve, never be able to update ourselves we would never be able to float a bond again if communities were dropping in and out of the authority. Who would back us financially when they would never know that the members that were present at the date and time that we incurred debt were not also going to be present at a later date when we would try to retire that debt.

If, however, they wish to withdraw and continue to make payments until such time as all of their debts are liquidated I would not feel that withdrawal would be inappropriate.

HIRAM McNEELEY
(City of Inkster)

1. I do not support the efforts of Gremore to regain a position with the hospital authority because his methods of relationship with board members and the running of hospitals can no longer be used.

2. Yes. I feel that the financial affairs of PCHA have been handled properly. We constantly are checking our accounting procedures to see if we are following or keeping pace with other financial institutions.

3. Yes. With the committee system used, members have an opportunity to deal with problems, financial and otherwise, first at committee level, secondly at the operating committee level thirdly at the regular monthly meeting of all members.

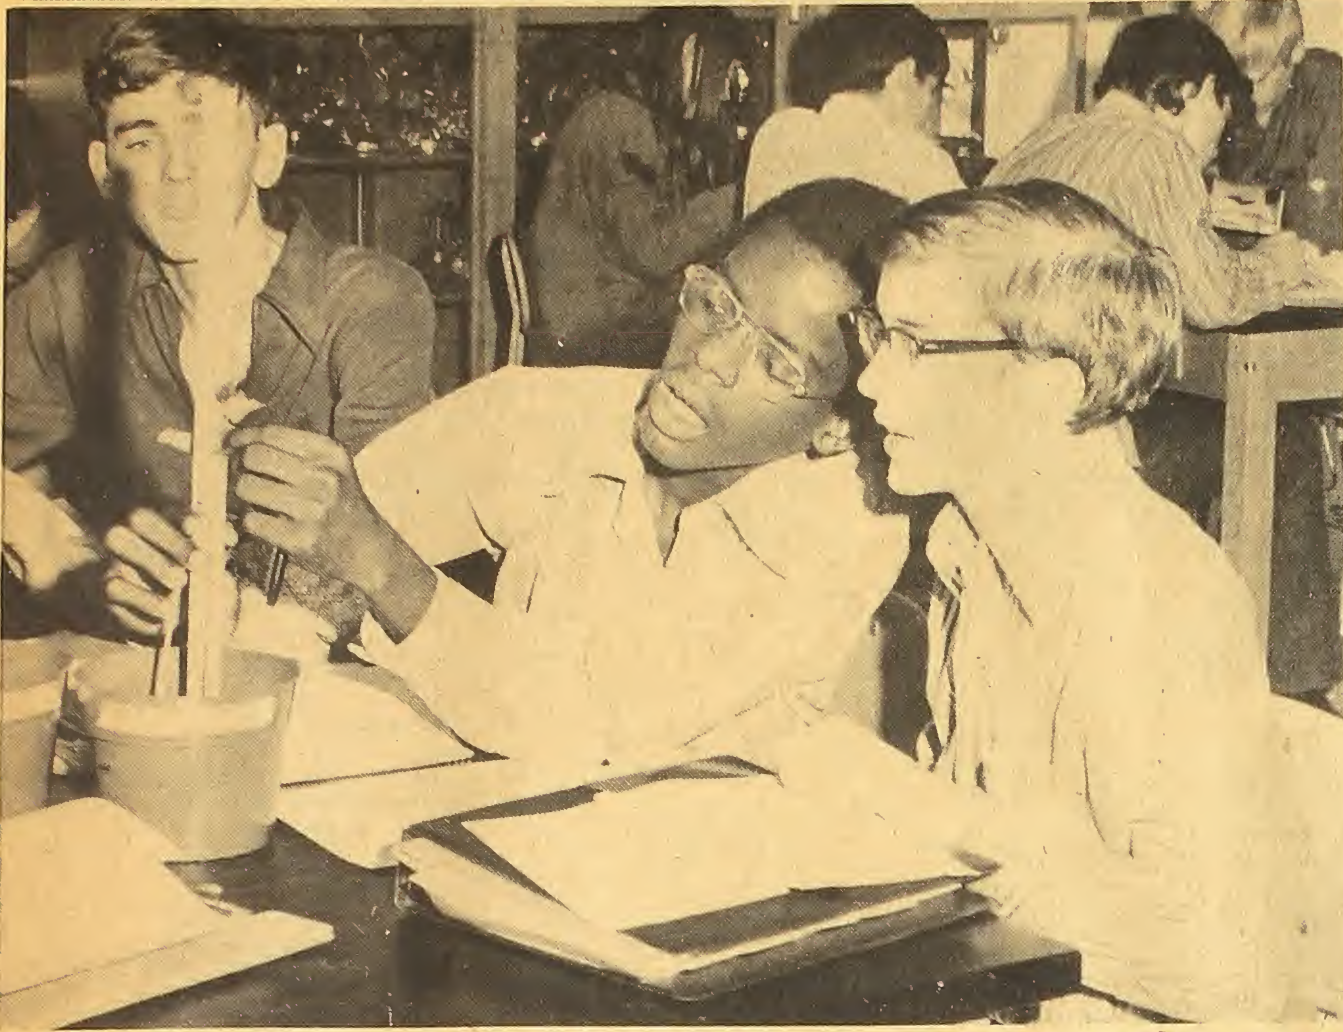

4. The board at its present size is rather large, but each community member has its own representative.

5. It is alarming that community leaders fail to replace their representatives who fail to attend meetings.

6. Member communities can withdraw from PCHA. How could we expand or bond for new hospitals if member communities could withdraw at will?

Civil Air Patrol has 30th anniversary today

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) is observing its 30th anniversary today (Wednesday). Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael has issued an official proclamation designating the week commencing with Dec. 1 as "Civil Air Patrol Week" in the City of Romulus.

The Wayne-Romulus Cadet Squadron and the Metro Emergency Services Senior Squadron are Romulus based units of the CAP.

The following report submitted by 2nd Lt. Lillian Cantrell of Taylor, a member of the Metro Emergency Services Senior Squadron describes the history of the Civil Air Patrol and the activities of the local units.

The Civil Air Patrol was started on Dec. 1, 1941 just prior to the attack by the Japanese on Pearl Harbor. At this time it led man to the vision that the country had to recognize two facts, the second World War appeared inevitable and that to win such a war, our nation's airpower had to be strengthened.

The first step was to mobilize a civil air strength of the United States with civilian pilot-instructor refresher courses and with a civil pilot training program.

This was supported by both the Army Air Corps and the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA).

Out of this emerged the Civil Air Patrol.

On Dec. 8, 1941, the director of Civilian Defense published Administrative Order 9, outlining the proposed organization of the Civil Air Patrol and designating Maj. Gen. John F. Curry of the U.S. Army Air Forces as Civil Air Patrols first national commander.

Immediately after the outbreak of World War II, enemy submarines were operating in American coastal waters along the eastern and southeastern shorelines, sometimes within a few hundred yards of the shore. The Japanese were sinking our merchantmen and tankers at the rate of two or three each day, and sometimes within sight of onlookers on the beaches.

The leaders of the Civil Air Patrol, aware of the opportunity to serve, urged the War Department to permit the recently organized Civil Air Patrol to help combat the submarines.

But the War Department said the hazards of operating land planes over ocean waters and the impracticality of their proposal were pointed out to them the organization was too young, its members were not disciplined and the mission was too critical at this point.

Our Navy was spread along a 1,200 mile sea frontier from Halifax to the Florida Keys, so striking back at the enemy submarines effectively was an impossible job.

A successful experiment began on March 5, 1942, which authorized Civil Air Patrol to patrol the coasts for a period of 30 days. Success or failure of this experiment was to determine the destiny of Civil Air Patrol.

This successful experiment proved good, and the Civil Air

Patrol was requested to take on other jobs such as border observation and patrol, antisabotage patrol of powerlines, pipelines, and aqueducts, forest patrol, search for missing aircraft, and courier service, including the transportation of urgently needed aircraft repair parts.

The Civil Air Patrol was on coastal patrol duty only 18 months, however. They started operations with only two bases, but when operation was discontinued they were operating from 21 bases along the coastlines from the Atlantic Ocean to the Gulf of Mexico. They had flown 84,685 missions, for a total of 244,600 hours, and to the equivalent of 24,000,000 miles. They reported 173 submarines, dropped 83 bombs and depth charges upon 57 of these.

They destroyed two, and summoned the Navy and Army bombers by radio, which destroyed many others. They summoned help for 91 vessels and for 363 survivors. They reported 17 floating mines, and at the request of the Navy, they flew 5,684 special convoy missions.

During the coastal patrol, there were 90 aircraft lost, 26 Civil Air Patrol pilots or observers killed and seven seriously injured.

Other wartime achievements included target-towing, radar tracking and tracking for searchlights. This mission lasted over a three-year period, when 20,593 towing and tracking missions were flown.

The Civil Air Patrol flew

46,000 hours on such missions over guns firing live ammunition or into the blinding glare of searchlights. These missions were extremely hazardous.

They were conducted at a loss of 23 airplanes, seven CAP members killed and five seriously injured. To fulfill these missions during World War II, the pilots flew approximately 500,000 hours, and at the cost of 411 fatalities.

All of the members were volunteers. Now Civil Air Patrol has its own volunteer flying force to assist in local and national disaster, in search and rescue, and in civil defense.

Romulus issues resolution opposing Edison closing

The City of Romulus is opposed to the closing of the Belleville branch of the Detroit Edison Co.

A resolution opposing the branch closing was unanimously adopted by the city council last week. Detroit Edison has announced it will close the Belleville branch along with others in the Western Wayne County area around Dec. 22.

The city council, in its resolution, stated that the closing of the Belleville office will greatly inconvenience the residents of Romulus as well as Belleville and the townships of Van Buren, Sumpter, Canton and Ypsilanti.

Residents of these areas will have to travel to the City of Wayne to obtain the services and conveniences now available at the Belleville office, the resolution stated. The council added that the area being served by the Belleville office is in the area of greatest anticipated growth according to population studies and projections made by numerous government agencies as well as the population projection studies and reports of the Detroit Edison Co.

The council charged that the proposed closing appears to be a violation of the Executive Order 11627 providing for stabilization of the economy

Huron citizens' group worried about school

To the editor:

According to one school board member all is well at Huron. If he really believes this, then we can only assume that the slumber party attended by board members in the past three years is still in session.

Through these years parents were continually told that the day to day business of planning and building of new schools was so time consuming and taxing that they were unaware of most problems in the schools.

It is our understanding that they again have a new building project in the works, and we cannot help but wonder if the school board members will again obliterate all else from their minds?

We realize that the building of schools is important, but we parents feel that the welfare of our children is just as important. We also realize that sports, art and music are important, and this is well and good, but the statement that the curriculum is constantly changing is not so good; and we refer to the fact that from six to 10 weeks of the new school year, mass confusion reigned in the high school as students flopped around hallways like fish out of water trying to make up their minds what courses to take.

For the first card marking many students couldn't even be graded in some classes due to this unorganized situation. (What a Waste!)

We cannot help but wonder what the percentage is of students that are really prepared for jobs after graduation. How many will still be like fish out of water when it comes to making a living for themselves?

In view of the article in the Huron Schools' Reporter we as concerned parents find it impossible to remain silent, because we are very concerned with the continued escalation of drug abuse in our schools.

For instance isn't it true that on Nov. 10 a group of students were passing out free pills to all takers in the hallways of our high school? And that a student was intimidated for reporting this fact? Not true you say? Ask your children! He or she may have been one of the 25 or 30 who accepted a pill that day.

Parents, is this the first step to drug addiction of our children? This is not an isolated case, drugs are being sold and taken throughout the school.

Several parents volunteered to work on a drug program several weeks ago, but thumbs were turned down when the list of names was submitted. Evidently if you are a concerned parent you are not capable of helping!

We would also like to question the permissive action of the high school administrators during the last student assembly that was held, and students were told to get out of the school building if they didn't wish to attend.

Isn't it true that during this period some students were caught expressing themselves or doing their own thing vandalizing buses, such as stuffing rags into the exhaust systems of the buses and dirt into the gas tanks? This permissiveness could have not only been costly to the community but to the lives of our children!

Hopefully, parents and board members are aware of these happenings. Some of us are well aware!

Huron band boosters campaign for uniforms

The Huron School District's Band Booster Club is sponsoring a gigantic campaign to raise funds for the purchase of at least 35 complete band uniforms for the senior high band members.

The goal of the booster club is to raise a minimum of $5,000. Each band uniform will cost the school at least $145.

Charles Grover, chairman of the booster campaign, said at the club's recent meeting, "The Huron High School Band deserves the support of the total community. They are a fine group of musicians who have performed exceptionally well at the home football games, at the homecoming parade, Waltz Homecoming and at the Police and Fireman's Field Day Parade. We are all proud of our band and we want them to know how much we appreciate their effort."

Some of the service clubs have volunteered their help in making the campaign a huge success. They will be knocking on doors on Saturday, Dec. 4, beginning at 9 a.m. asking for donations to help in the purchasing of new band uniforms.

Huron's Senior High Band will kick off the campaign on Saturday, Dec. 4 with musical presentations at Waltz and New Boston. While the band plays, volunteer workers will solicit contributions from the businessmen and residents of Huron Township. You are asked to be generous and understanding when the doorbell rings and someone identifies himself as a band booster campaigner.

Chairman Grover announced Monday that they have collected $1,300 thus far as a result of the band bazaar and other special projects.

Each person collecting will be identified as a band booster. He will be carrying a closed canister as he makes his house to house call. Grover has the following people assisting him with the campaign: May Miller, Connie Tillotson, Mary Grover, Peggy Fakhoury, Pat Ward, Shirley Havenstein, Scott Ludwig, Lucille Ferstle and Delphine Ortnier.

A special meeting has been called by Grover for Thursday Dec. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school band room. Final plans will be made at this time plus last minute assignments will be given.

If you are a Band Booster you are strongly urged to attend this meeting.

License applicant presents plans

Raymond Verrot of 44044 Harmony Lane, who is seeking approval of his request for a Class C liquor license, has presented plans for his proposed site and establishment to the Van Buren Township Board.

Verrot is one of 17 applicants for one of three

Class C licenses which were allotted to Van Buren Township. because of population growth in the township.

Verrot plans to construct his establishment on Huron River Drive and Haggerty Road. He said he plans to build a business similar to Bimbo's in Ypsilanti and Mr. Mike's in Westland. No official action was taken by the board.

G. Elton Gollwitzer, township supervisor, recently stated the township was in no hurry to grant the licenses and said officials will award the licenses based on what is in the best interest of the township.

Previously another applicant, Larry H. Krantz of 12300 Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville, presented plans and a third applicant Louis A. Toth, former township supervisor, made an oral presentation.

Church holds bazaar

The Altar Society of St. Aloysius Church of Romulus will hold its annual Christmas bazaar on Sunday, Dec. 5, in the school hall at 37200 Neville Rd.

Booths will be open from noon until 6 p.m., and a chicken and meat ball dinner will be served from noon until 5 p.m.

Among the articles being made by the ladies of the Altar Society are aprons, pillow cases, flower arrangement, and many other items. There will be a drawing every hour on the hour, using the dinner ticket stubs.

The price for the dinner will be $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children and those under the age of 5 will be admitted free.

ASCS answers inquiries

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) will continue to answer inquiries on Phase II of the Economic Stabilization Program.

The Wayne County ASCS Office, located at 3716 Newberry St., Wayne, also has available Form PC-IR, "Report of Markup By Retailing And Wholesaling Companies."

Companies may request the forms by calling 721-7932 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PRESENTING FOOD — Little League Bowlers from the Belleville-Van Buren Township area presented several cartons loaded with collected canned goods to the Belleville-Van Buren Goodfellows Association. The contribution was made made at the Lodge Lanes, 46255 Expressway, Belleville, where the young

Third graders celebrate Thanksgiving with dinner

The third graders attending separate classrooms at the Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, 39000 Superior St., Romulus, had dinner together for observance of Thanksgiving.

The dinner, served by the teachers and parents, was held on Tuesday, Nov. 23.

The menu included turkey, corn, rolls, punch and jello for dessert.

The classes, taught by Mrs. Karen Price and Mrs. Cheryl Brackney, wished everyone in the City of Romulus a "Happy Thanksgiving."

The students later presented a play for the school's Thanksgiving assembly. The play, entitled "Be Thankful," was about a girl and two boys who relived the first Thanksgiving.

Winter in Michigan 'red hot' vacation time

We confess! Michigan does not have the majestic, sky-high peaks you'll find in the Alps or the Rockies, but we do have slopes, runs and trails that offer comparable thrills and exciting challenges to skiing enthusiasts, plus, some things the others do not have, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Michigan has the world's highest artificial ski jump at Pine Mountain Lodge in Iron Mountain, this year's host for the U.S. Olympic team tryouts. Michigan has the only ski flying hill in the western hemisphere, located north of Ironwood in the Upper Peninsula.

The National Ski Hall of Fame is located at Ishpeming where the National Ski Association was founded in 1904. Famous Suicide Hill Ski Jump is there too, the site of annual competition among the world's top jumpers. Best of all, Michigan is greeting the 1971-72 season with 73 developed sports areas with the welcome mat out for skiers of all ages, "first timers" to accomplished pros.

Michigan is also providing 126 authorized snowmobile areas this season for those who prefer skimming across the snow in a sit-down, motorized fashion. The majority of Michigan's state parks and recreation areas also have areas open for snowmobiling. However, check with the individual park managers for specific locations.

Making their grand openings this season will be two new sports areas - Adventure Mountain located at Mass on M-26 about 18 miles southwest of Ontonagon in the Upper Peninsula and Fun Valley, five miles north of Mio on County Road 612 in the eastern Lower Peninsula.

Adventure Mountain will offer snow sportsmen two downhill runs with one tow, a Chalet and cafeteria plus an ice rink and toboggan run. Their facilities will be open weekends and three nights under the lights.

Fun Valley will open with three slopes, a rope tow, snack bar and dining, featuring American and European plans. They've also provided a special area for snowmobilers and will be offering snow holiday package plans.

Many winter sports centers have been busy during the summer months making improvements and additions to their facilities. For example, skiers will find 21 new slopes, runs and trails, 13 new chair lifts and tows.

In western Michigan, Thunder Mountain has added a new racing area and new rental chalets. When you go to Shanty Creek Lodge this year, be sure to pack your swim suit and take a dip in their new enclosed, heated pool. If you plan to try the slopes at Mount Mancelona, stow your gear in the camper and take advantage of their new trailer park.

Skiing parents will be interested to know that Sugar Loaf Village will be providing a new baby sitting service this season. It will operate daily from 1 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. It's professionally staffed and equipped to care for children from a few weeks to 10 years of age.

Some changes have been made at ski areas on the eastern side of the state, too. In the Gaylord region, Sylvan Knob has a new snack bar and will be open weekends only this season. It will also be weekend skiing only at the AuSable Lodge and Ski Club, but Mio Mountain will be open weekends, Mondays and Christmas week. Snowmobilers as well as skiers can enjoy Mott Mountain's facilities when the snow falls. For toboggan fans the Circle TNT Ski Area in southeast Michigan has added a new toboggan run.

Accommodation facilities have been expanded at Big Powderhorn, between Bessemer and Ironwood to lodge 500 guests. Nub's Nob, northeast of Harbor Springs has increased its space to 75 and Pine Mountain now has plenty of room for 120 guests.

Although skiing and snowmobiling top the list of Michigan's winter attractions, many other activities draw a large audience. Ice fishing, boating and skating have impressive fan clubs with tobogganing, dog sledding, snowshoe trail blazes and old fashion sleigh rides ranking well in popularity.

YOUR MOVE - Glancing to his sides to see what Don Hamilton (10) has on his mind, veteran Romulus cager Calvin Harris (14) pauses before leaping for the basket and two points. Harris (6-0, junior) is one of four returning starters to Coach Dave Court's quintet this season. He earned All Twin Valley Conference recognition last year and will be called upon heavily to help the Eagles better last year's record-setting 14-6, won-lost mark.

Suburban '8' stocked with wrestling power

Belleville grapplers and Coach Tom Fritz got a glimpse Saturday at one of the two newcomers in the Suburban Eight Conference and didn't like what they saw. "They are real tough," said Coach Fritz, commenting on Edsel Ford which was second at the Bedford Invitation. "We figured that they would lose a lot of their boys, but - just like Ypsilanti - they have a lot of others who can do the job."

Edsel Ford and Derborn are the two of the new foes that Belleville will face in the expanded conference. Both are considered powerhouses in wrestling. Belleville got off to a "decent start" placing fourth (51) in the field of eight teams at Bedford. The Tigers trailed host Bedford, which won its own invitational with a total of 105½ points, Edsel Ford (80) and Adrian (77½).

Flat Rock (40), North Farmington (38), Tecumseh (21) and Allen Park (18) brought up the tail end.

Belleville had three gold medalists in the field. Jose Garcia outwrestled Don Sheppard of Flat Rock in the 126-pound category, while John Smith won a 5-0 decision in the finals over Gary Simpson, also of Flat Rock, and heavyweight Keith Simos pinned Pat Crowe, of North Farmington, in 2:47 seconds.

Also coming away with a medal was Terry Pullen who decided Allen Park's Joe Arip 5-3 to place third in the 167 pound class.

Belleville went into the invitational without the services of three veterans: Gary Krajewski, a 155-pounder who was given a week's rest to recuperate from the football season; Joe Horton (112) and John Alford (185).

Fritz has "high hopes for this year's teams," but cautioned that Edsel Ford will be one to beat in a league that is vastly improved.

"This league has always been a good one when it came to wrestling and with the addition of Edsel and Dearborn is will be even tougher," said Fritz. "I feel we will fare well but the lack of depth is a real cause for concern."

Belleville will match its strength next at the Western Wayne Invitational scheduled for Saturday at Wayne Memorial. Wrestling will begin at noon.

Belleville North gridders perfect

The Belleville North Junior High eighth grade football team, coached by Dave Smith and Larry Tabor, finished the 1971 season with a perfect 6-0 record.

North posted a total of 166 points while holding its opponents to 18. They claimed the following victories: 3-0 over Belleville South; 30-0 over Dearborn Heights; 28-0 over Dearborn; 34-6 over Best Junior High; 34-6 over John Hill, a 14-12 victory over River Rouge and a 30-0 win over Romulus.

"The defensive team proved outstanding all season by allowing only three touchdowns while recording shutouts in four of its contests," said Coach Smith. "It also held the opposition to

'Dark days are over'

Romulus '5' is loaded

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

The dark days for Romulus basketball seem to be over. With four out of the five starters returning, Coach Dave Court has a loaded hand that if played well may turn the Eagles into a state Class A power.

Though Court's trump card of a year ago, 6-foot-5 center Nate Davis is gone through graduation, the second year Romulus coach has the player potential to better a 14-6 won-lost record of a year ago. That record was the best any Romulus cage team had posted for nearly two decades.

"We're loaded," admits Court who a year ago shifted from New Boston Huron, a Class B high school, to forge a contender out of Romulus in the Twin Valley Conference. The now defunct league was made up of the likes of perennial state B champ, River Rouge, Ecorse, Willow Run and Hamtramck.

Court has two deft ball handlers in the backcourt in guards Ron Kersey (5-8) and Tony Owens (5-10) and all-conference Calvin Harris, 6-foot deadeye, and Nate's younger brother, sophomore John Long, (6-4) fill the forward posts.

Davis, who was Romulus' first All-Sate cager, is presently a freshman at Eastern Michigan University. Before leaving for EMU, Nate shattered most scoring and rebound records at Romulus.

To find a cager with Davis' acuity will be a tough task for Court, but he feels that All-Area, All-Metro gridders, Ken McMann may fill the bill.

"No doubt about it, we're going to miss Nate," said Court. "He was the perfect cager who did everything well. But McMann also has the potential. He has size and the intelligence to lead this team."

McMann, a three-sport athlete, sat out last year after suffering a football injury. The 6-foot-5 senior was chosen to captain this year's Eagle aggregation.

Court also has a couple of more impressive cagers in sophomore James Hall, a lanky 6-foot-6 pivotman who moved directly to the varsity squad. Hall was "double promoted," having skipped reserve ball. The 15-year-old soph played on the freshman team.

Horace Person, a 6-foot-2, forward who was a starter on the reserve unit last year as well as Carl Seestedt (6-foot-2, senior), and griddy-turned-cager Darryl Gooden (6-foot-2, junior) also are seeking starting berths as forwards.

Court also has three guards to pick from if needed. They are Sam Bon (5-foot-8, senior); Les Davis (5-foot-6, junior) and Don Hamilton (5-foot-8, junior).

The Romulus mentor feels that this is the best team I have coached.

"They sure looked good in their pre-season scrimmages and practice," said Court.

Romulus grapplers place 2nd

Despite finishing second to Wayne Memorial at their own quad, Romulus wrestling coach Jim Stallings said he was pleased with his team's inaugural performance of the season.

Wayne picked up seven out of the 12 first places, leaving four gold medals to Romulus and one for Garden City West in claiming first place with a total of 65 team points. Romulus was second with 53 while GC West had 42 and Lakeview was last with 2.

"The kids on the team who have just finished football haven't gotten into shape and their moves aren't right as yet," said Stallings, "but I have to say I am pleased with our initial performance."

Marvin Williams, one of those gridders-turned-grapplers emerged as the quad's Most Outstanding Wrestler as he earned a gold medal in the 185-pound class by pinning West's Steve Tucker in three minutes.

Romulus' Brad Smith decided John Bullard 10-4 to win top honors in the 126 class while Aaron Cross floored Greg Frost in 3:58 in winning the first place medal for the 145 pound class.

The Eagle's other gold medalist was John Arrington (165) who worked Mike Backus over 11-5.

Romulus will start the 1971-72 campaign later than most area teams. The Eagles will launch the year Tuesday at home to New Haven, a strong Class B title contender. "They're tough and they always have respectable teams," noted Court. Will the lack of a title race kill the team's incentive?

McMANN IN ACTION - All-Area, All-Metro gridders Ken McMann (White jersey) goes high over the outstretched arm of James Hall (40) to take this shot in a "Meet the Team" game at Romulus. McMann will also play a key role in Coach Dave Court's cage plans. The 6-foot-5 senior was designated to captain this year's Eagles who will launch the season Tuesday night at home to New Haven.

"I don't think so," said Court. "Our independent schedule will give us a good chance to look at some of the teams whom we normally wouldn't have met."

It also will give us a better opportunity to prepare for the state tournaments which the Romulus coach says he prizes more than any league battle.

"One of our goals will be to avenge our loss in the regionals to Ann Arbor Pioneers," said Court. "They had a young team and so did we, I'm hoping we will meet again this year."

Herman to coach Chiefs

Andy Herman has moved up to take over as New Boston Huron High's head basketball coach.

Herman, a former assistant to Dave Court and freshmen coach, replaces Marty Hotvedt who handled the coaching chores for one year before departing for the University of Minnesota where he is working on his doctorate in education.

Herman is a Western Michigan University graduate where he played freshmen ball and earned his bachelor degree in business education. He inherits a team that finished 9-9 last year.

"We're green and small," said Herman. "We lost 7 of 8 players and the only real starter from last year is Dan Clark so I guess you'd have to say we're in a rebuilding stage."

Clark is a 6-foot, senior forward who is working out his football muscles.

Herman has several players who played reserve ball to choose from including Fred Cordts, a 6-foot-2 senior forward, Frank Causey, a 6-foot-2, senior who probably will play pivot for the Chiefs; Mario Gracia and Dana Kemp who are 5-foot-10 and 5-foot-9, respectively and slated for the backcourt.

Final notes (and letters) on All-Area

By TOM MOORADIAN
Daily Eagle Sports Editor

If I said it once, I've said it a thousand times: "I wish there were a better way to pick the All-Area football team."

In cross country, basketball, wrestling, swimming, baseball - almost every sport there are some criteria to skim the "cream of the crop" and designate it as such.

But how can one really prove in football that one high school football player is better than another when these two individuals or teams never meet.

And how can one qualify picking one person over another even though these two may have similar stats?

It is a very difficult thing to do. Believe me. And because picking such a team is difficult, this year we let the voice of the fans be heard. They responded tremendously. If this seems as a preparation of a defense for our All-Area selection, I must admit it is. We do have outstanding prep football players on our team. We do have, what I feel is the Cream of the crop, though I know some will disagree.

Some coaches have already expressed disappointment in our final selections. It is their prerogative. But I would challenge anyone to say that the 22 players The Daily Eagle has on the All-Area teams are not deserving of such recognition.

We are always eager to listen to new ideas. And if you have any formula upon which we can select future teams, don't hesitate, write us.

To the 22 boys who were selected, our congratulations. You represent an area which is proud of its football and its competitive tradition.

Two former All-Area gridders, I am told, were on opposite sides last Saturday when Hillsdale clashed with Wayne State University. Mike Nowicki, and senior center at Hillsdale and Steve Curtis, a defensive halfback at WSU - both of whom graduated from Wayne St. Mary's found themselves playing against each other.

And Wayne State managed to pull an upset over the highly-favored Hillsdale squad, 9-0.

Former Garden City West cross country-track star Donnie Andersen reached another milestone at the NAIC national finals staged in Kansas City recently.

Andersen, an all Tri-River Conference, All-Area cross country man also earned All-American recognition when he finished 11th in a field of nearly 500 entries.

Struggling over a 5-mile terrain which was accented with numerous hills, Donnie ran a 26:56.

And someone told me the other day you can easily tell when you hit middle-age by the way it hits back.

West High football fans didn't waste any time making their sentiments known about the 1971 All-Area high school football teams. Early this morning I found a stack of post cards addressed to The Sports Editor - but not exactly those words.

I knew that the words were meant for me from the contents of the letters and cards. Here is one of those darts:

Gentlemen.

An All-Area football team without Jim Simms? Someone must be kidding. This player did almost everything for Garden City West High School. He rushed for over 1,000 yards - which should be a record; scored over 100 points himself - which should be another record and helped the Tigers to their first Tri-River Conference championship.

What else is a player suppose to do?

Tigers to open at Ypsi

Injuries to two key players cloud Belleville's basketball season which will get underway Friday night at Ypsilanti.

Tiger Coach Al Gates will go into the opener without 6-foot-3 senior pivotman Tony Ogletree and high-scoring Marty Miller who are nursing various injuries.

And he may need everyone to stop Ypsi, a perennial Class A state power.

Ogletree is a football casualty and he isn't expected back with the team until next month. Miller, a veteran guard, is recuperating from an abdominal operation. Though he may see action this Friday he isn't expected to be 100 percent until a few weeks.

"We're quicker than we were last year," said Gates who will enter his fourth year as head coach. "And our front line is bigger and better than previous years."

"Others have zoned us in the past, but I feel we have the shooters who will get us out of any trouble."

Belleville, with Gates, has gradually moved a cellar-dweller to a respected member of the Suburban Six cage community, will meet two new rivals in the expanded Suburban 8. They include Dearborn and Edsel Ford.

However, neither of the two newcomers figures to upset title favorites, Livonia Bentley, the defending champ, and Redford Union, the chief challenger.

"I figure we can be up there if everything falls into place," said Gates. "We finished third last year and our aim is to go even higher. But there is a lot of work ahead of us."

Belleville will have to patch up the hole left by the graduation of All-Area cager, Garrade Pettus, who is presently attending Eastern Michigan University. One top-notch candidate is Keith Neeley, a 6-foot-2, junior forward who is a transfer student from Oregon.

"He looks good," said Gates of the newcomer. "He definitely fits into the starting lineup."

Others whom the Tiger mentor has back are Mike Garland (6-foot-1, senior guard), Eddie Branam (6-foot-2, senior forward), Al Cicotte (6-foot-5, junior that subject.

And here's another note on that subject.

Dear Mr. Mooradian

I wouldn't trade you one Jim Simms for your entire All-Area backfield. Someone made a grave mistake and it should be corrected. This boy deserves All-Area recognition if anyone does.

And there were others who you left off. Here's how that All-Area backfield should have looked:

Rick Stevens - quarterback, Wayne Memorial

Jim Simms - halfback, Garden City West

John Pippo, halfback, Livonia Franklin.

Dennis Burton, halfback Garden City East

Thank You,

Dear WP, Garden City,

Not bad. I would say backfield is as good as any in this area - if not better. But why did you wait until after the selections were made to voice your opinion?

It's always like that, isn't it? Don't care about something, and then when someone does something differently than you, you are quickly to react.

Tigers hold line on prices

DETROIT — The Tigers will hold the line on ticket prices in 1972, despite steadily climbing costs of operation.

John E. Fetzner, owner-president, today announced that while the Tigers might qualify for a small increase under the national price controls program, none will be sought.

"The Tigers will support President Nixon in his fight against inflation," the Tiger owner said.

"This is a decision we have made in the face of increased costs of operation, which have been at the rate of seven or eight per cent a year for the past several seasons," he added. "However, if we continue to face this problem of absorbing increased costs, we will be forced to increase our ticket prices for future years."

center) and Terry Pate (6-foot-2, junior forward).

Neeley, Branam and Cicotte will probably form the front line, while Pate and Mike Golden will handle the backcourt chores Friday night at Ypsilanti.

Golden, a 5-foot-11, senior guard, is an outstanding jumper who played an important role in last year's campaign which ended in a 9-10 won-lost ratio.

Two others, Ronnie Abraham (5-foot-8, junior guard) and Brad Schleif (6-foot-4, junior forward) could easily muscle their way into starting assignments.

However, Schleif has been troubled with a sore tendon and won't be ready for Friday's debut.

If Gates can get his ailing players back before the league season, he and the Tigers could stir up some title possibilities this season. But with 6-foot-8 Tim Boolin returning to Bentley's lineup, Belleville's dream for a title is just that - a dream.

The Tigers' decision to hold the price line pegs box seats at $4.00, reserved $3.00, general admission $2.00 and bleachers $1.00 for the 1972 Tiger Stadium season which will open April 11.

MAKING HIS POINT - Dribbling past Ken MacMann (white jersey), James Hall (40) slips through for a layup in last week's "coming-out-game" at Romulus High. More than 500 fans were on hand to watch a halftime of action that helped introduced Coach Dave Court's 1971 cage model. New Haven will be the first to test the Eagles, the two teams clashing on Tuesday at Romulus.

WSU coach labels Breaz 'All-American'

"If George Breaz isn't All-American caliber, then there isn't such a thing."

The speaker is Wayne State University Head Football Coach and Athletic Coordinator Vern Gale and he was talking at season's end about WSU's co-captain linebacker and sometimes fullback.

"There's something wrong if he isn't an All-American," said Gale. "He has the ability and he's fundamentally the soundest player we have. He's very strong in the fundamentals and the execution of them."

"His attitude and desire are superlative. He's sound academically and has an enthusiasm for the game which he transmits to others. He has great leadership capabilities and displayed them this season."

"George is a great young man. I'm sure he can't play some professional football at linebacker. He's smaller than some of them (6-2, 213), but he has an instinct for the game and his position that we haven't had in some time," Gale added in the strongest endorsement he has made for a player with All-American qualifications since coming to WSU in 1965.

Gale has been high in his praise of Breaz for quite some time. He saw Breaz's potential in 1967 when he used the then-freshman on special teams and Breaz returned a pair of kickoffs for 43 yards although sent in as a blocker, harassed kick returners and returned his first college interception 59 yards for a score.

The next year, he lamented the loss of Breaz (New Boston-Huron) to knee surgery, but welcomed him back to full-time duty in 1969. "He's the one man we can't afford to lose," said Gale early in each of the 1969, 1970 and 1971 seasons.

Breaz missed parts of two games with injuries this season, but bounced back from a side injury to record 34 tackling points vs. Central State, WSU's highest total of the year and just off the school mark of 39 points (twice) by the late Ron Solack. (WSU coaches determine solo tackles and assists from the game films and award two points for a solo stop, one point for an assisted tackle.)

A former prep captain and four-time letterman as a high schooler, Breaz led WSU's tacklers this season with 192 points. He was just off the school's single-season mark of 198 points set in nine games by Ed Pavoris in 1967, but topped the previous best eight-game total of 162 by Solack in 1966.

Breaz recorded 39 solo tackles and 114 assisted tackles to be in on average of 19 stops per game this season. WSU's second major defensive category is "Break-Makers", creating breaks for the Tartars by blocking kicks, forcing fumbles, covering fumbles, interceptions and tackling the passer for a loss. Breaz was second this year with nine to repeat winner Ed Moten who had 11. Breaz forced five fumbles, covered two fumbles, intercepted a pass and blocked a kick.

Additionally, he forced eight bad snaps on punts by intimidating the center. These are not classified as "breaks", but they either resulted in poor punts or no punts by the Tartars.

Gale also used Breaz in certain offensive situations this year. He carried 14 times for 56 yards and four scores. Perhaps his top performance came in the season-ending 9-0 upset of Hillsdale when Breaz, who had been in on 19 tackles (27 points), causing two fumbles and covering one, went to full back late in the game with the Tartars trying to control the ball on the ground. He couldn't be shaken loose from the ball in six pressure carries.

His potential as a fullback was established in 1969 when he rushed for 149 yards in 16 carries against Central Michigan including bursts of 41, 36 and 12 for the most yards surrendered by CMU to an individual that year and the longest running play. His four-year rushing average in just 88 carries was 4.9 per carry.

"Breaz has the respect of his teammates and the officials," adds Gale. "We've been told many times that he's a fine gentleman on the field by the officials, that he keeps the team in line and that he helps the officials in their work," said Gale and it is certain that he has the admiration of the coaching staff for his play and leadership. WSU was 4-4, 6-2 and 4-4 in Breaz's three years as a regular, 7-2 in his freshman year and 3-6 in the year he missed with knee surgery.

Just what he wanted!

Barbershop group eager to perform

A barbershop quartet at Belleville North Junior High was started last year when school auditions were held.

Its purpose could be found in the title of its club: SPEBSQSA, which means "The Society for Preservation of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America."

When Mrs. Kathleen Thueme became the new vocal music teacher at North Junior High School, two of the old club members asked to continue barbershop rehearsals during their lunch hour.

The fellows also meet each Tuesday night for an hour of fun and singing. They have prepared a program and are eager to perform at any church or club in the Belleville area, especially during the coming Christmas season.

Club members are Mark Honeycutt, Mark Gray, Steve Wilson, Mark Gauthier, and one member from South Junior High, Joe Haynes.

Drug-sniffing dog attends meeting

Wayne County Sheriff Department's Metro Division presented its drug-sniffing dog "Bomber" at the recent meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) at Haggerty Road Elementary School.

For obvious reasons, an unidentified representative of the Metro Squad was a featured speaker at the meeting held on Nov. 18 in the multi-purpose room of the school, in addition to the surprise visit of "Bomber."

The speaker discussed the present drug problem to an overflowing audience that attended the meeting.

The speaker distributed printed literature about drugs and showed samples of drugs and drug instruments used to administer them.

He also described slang terms and explained what happens with different kinds of drugs. Real cases concerning the use of drugs were detailed by the speaker, including a communication written by a former girl addict to her brother begging him to get off drugs.

In a demonstration of Bomber's ability to sniff out drugs, his trainer hid some drugs in various places among the audience. Bomber sniffed them all out in a matter of minutes.

Following the performance of Bomber, the children in attendance were permitted to play with the dog.

A question and answer period followed.

Christmas Club shows record year statistics

Christmas Club, a Corporation has released figures for the nation's 1971 Christmas Club members totaling $2,684,784,000 in club savings during this year.

Over 17,776,000 Americans opened clubs this year and saved an average of $151 in each club membership.

This represents another record year for Christmas Club savings and memberships, according to Christmas Club Corporation, the organization that originated the savings plan back in 1910.

Over 11,000 banks and savings institutions will issue checks to members during this month when the Christmas buying season starts.

Christmas Club surveys show that although many people join just for Christmas cash, nearly $700,000,000 from 1971 clubs will go right back into savings at the institutions where the clubs were joined and the remainder spent in Christmas presents and such expenses as taxes, insurance, tuition and vacation.

The record highs in membership and dollars saved indicate a strong ahead attitude on the part of many Americans to insure a Happy Holiday Season.

Bazaar nets $3,400

The 1971 bazaar of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville was a "very successful and profitable" affair, bazaar officials announced.

The bazaar, held Nov. 6 and 7 at the church hall, attracted more than 800 persons.

Dinners at the bazaar were served to 498 adults and 268 children. The total income so far reported amounts of $3,426.

The outstanding ticket salesmen were Joseph Jansen of the Ushers Club, Nick Nehez of the Men's Club, Betty Tontalo of the Altar Society and Valerie Swinson of the Mothers' Club.

The winners of the bazaar's prizes were Bobbie Checkosky of Belleville, who won the first prize, a Sno-Mobile and trailer; D. Ohesak of Oak Park, who won the television set and J. Fitzgerald of Dearborn who won the girl's bike.

Rev. Raymond S. Skoney and bazaar officials issued thanks and appreciation Monday to all who purchased tickets and participated in the bazaar.

BELLEVILLE'S NEW BARBERSHOP QUARTET. A group of students at the North Junior High School, with the approval of their teacher, have resumed their barbershop quartet singing. They meet once a week for rehearsals. They have prepared a program and are eager to perform at any church or club. They are (from left) Mark Gray, Joe Haynes, Mark Gauthier, Keith Wilson and Mark Honeycutt.

British teacher speaks at Edgemont PTO meeting

A Head Teacher from England equivalent to our school principal in this country to study methods of teaching reading and to exchange England's teaching methods, was the principal speaker at the recent PTO meeting at the Edgemont School Belleville.

She is Mrs. Sheila Quarrell, mother of five children, who has been in the United States since June 16 of this year.

Mrs. Quarrell, who was born in Surrey, England, and studied in Belgium, showed a film of life in the classroom and spoke on the form of teaching used in England. Her topic was entitled "Children Are People."

She related that children are grouped from five to seven years old and the group is called infant school. The seven to 11 years old are called junior school.

In the infant school, the children remain with the same group of children and teacher for their three years of infant school.

Educators believe it takes three to four months to know a child, and this method gives nine to 12 months of extra teaching time in the three-year period.

The children, she said, work independently and in groups according to their interests. The school room is equipped with every variety of learning aids and the child is allowed to study or observe whatever he wishes.

The film was made by the Stockwell College and taken of five British elementary schools.

Reading center opens

The Wayne County Library System has announced the opening of a Reading Center at the Sumpter Health Center Building, located at 2410 Sumpter Rd., Sumpter Township.

The reading center will make available to pre-school and adolescent children, youth and adults, new paperback books of assorted classifications.

Equipment and books for the new reading center were transported to Sumpter Township last Friday afternoon.

Clarence Walters, assistant Wayne County librarian, and Mrs. Mary Gaboda, in charge of the Children Services Division of the Wayne County Library System, directed the moving operations and the setting up of the reading center.

Apple House elects a steering committee

Apple House, a youth organization sponsored by the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA, has established a steering committee.

Five John Glenn and Wayne Memorial high school students were elected by the participants at Apple House. Utz Krause is general chairman, Sandy Festerman is finance and accounting chairman, Lois St. Holmes handles general secretary duties, Gerhard Legherz takes care of future events and Tom Igralski is program coordinator.

Apple House is a multi-activity program for teenagers held Monday through Thursday nights, 7 to 10 p.m., at the YMCA.

"The group can really start moving now with the election of a steering committee and will before long be an integral part of the community," predicted Apple House director Bud Burton.

Apple House is open to students in Belleville, Garden City, Canton Township, Inkster, Wayne and Westland.

More information is available at the YMCA, 721-7049.

Games should be chosen as carefully as clothes, food

The toys and games you buy a child should fit him as well as his clothes, and be as carefully chosen as his meals.

"This fact may complicate your Christmas shopping a little, but you should choose toys to match your child's specific developmental needs," according to Jeanne Brown, extension child development specialist at Michigan State University.

"For example, besides being safe, durable and interesting to your child, do his toys challenge his thinking abilities? Do they develop his muscular strength and coordination? Do they invite creative exploration in the arts and sciences? Do they offer opportunities to interact with other people?" she asks.

Infants and lap babies need to develop their muscles and senses. They need to direct their efforts toward a rattle, brightly-colored "crib gym," soft plastic blocks or floating bath animals.

The toddler is an experimenter. He should have take-apart, put-together and push-pull toys to challenge his new-found capabilities. He can learn from a large soft ball; cartons for climbing; sand pile with scooping toys; simple story books; and toys for reliving "real life" experiences, like unbreakable dishes, telephone and garden tools.

The two-year old is a mover who needs to test his strength. He will enjoy large balls, steps for climbing practice and a Kiddie Kar. Easy puzzles and nests of blocks will challenge his thinking abilities, while costumes and cuddly toy animals provide opportunities for pretend play. He's also ready to express his feelings with large crayons, modeling clay, finger-painting and simple musical instruments.

Preschoolers begin to show an interest in other people and the world outside their home. Three, four-and five-year-olds may enjoy wagons, trikes, simple throwing games (bean bags) and simple rolling games (ten pins). They are probably old enough to appreciate an aquarium or terrarium; a lock with a key; inlay puzzles; picture books or a view master with slides.

Married November 20

Newly wed Browns honeymoon in Nassau

A bridal coterie of 19 persons took part in the November 20 wedding of Diana Sue Epling and William Edwin Brown at the Rawsonville Baptist Church. Four bridesmaids and ushers, a miniature bride and groom, four junior attendants and ushers, and a flowergirl were included in the wedding party.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Epling of 2470 Heartside Drive, Ypsilanti, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her Chantilly lace gown was designed with a Victorian neckline and bishop sleeves on the fitted bodice and a full-tiered ruffled skirt which terminated in a cathedral-length train.

A crystal headpiece secured her three-tiered illusion veil which was banded in matching lace and she held cascading white carnations and pink and red rosebuds.

Preece and Patty Moore of Jamboree, Kentucky, and Janie Compton of Phelps, Kentucky, served as bridesmaids.

Their identical gowns were fashioned with red velvet bodice with fitted sleeves and high necklines, the skirts being made in a red and pink floral design. The latter three carried red velvet muffs, all accented with pink and red carnations. Completing their ensembles were headpieces of red rose clusters edged with matching veils.

JUNIOR BRIDESMAIDS were Tena Hendrickson of Belleville; Kim Dunbar of Plymouth; and Kelly Anderson and Tomie Sue Anderson, both of Ypsilanti. Flowergirl, also in a long red velvet bodiced frock, was the bridegroom's sister, Gail Brown.

Taking the roles of miniature bride and groom were Kelly Gilliam and Jeffrey Stinedurf, both of Ypsilanti. Best man was Mike Keen of Ypsilanti and groomsmen were Ron Sizemore of Ypsilanti, and two of the bridegroom's cousins, Mike and Dave Burgett of Ann Arbor. Junior ushers included Jeff and Greg Epling, brothers of the bride; Jim Brown, brother of the bridegroom; and Jerry Robbins of Belleville.

At the reception, which followed in the church parlor, the bride's mother received in a pink dress with an accordion-pleated skirt and rose-embroidered sleeves. The bridegroom's mother donned a long-sleeved pink dress with matching accessories.

For traveling to Nassau in the Bahamas for their five-day honeymoon, the new Mrs. Brown, changed to a two-piece grey and white suit with matching accessories and added a corsage of red and pink carnations encircled by baby sweetheart roses.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletis Brown of 1417 Gattagno, Ypsilanti, graduated from Willow Run High School in 1970 and later attended Eastern Michigan University. He is currently working as a meatcutter at Wrigley's in Ann Arbor.

The new Mrs. Brown was graduated in 1970 from Belleville High, attended Bob Jones University, and now works at the Ypsilanti Savings Bank.

The couple's new address is 1004 Carver Street, Ypsilanti.

Thanksgiving dinner a 'first' in new home

THURSDAY'S REPAST at Dick and Pat Gamble's was a bit special this year since it was the first major holiday celebrated in their new Expressway Drive home on Belleville Lake.

Invited to join them for all the goodies the day promised were Pat's mother and dad, the Warren Dufords, (who provided the big bird) and her uncle and aunt, the Vern Kiffs

NOON WAS THE TIME designated for turkey dinner at the Judd Road home of the Fay Fergusons. The 13 guests included their neighbor, Miss Ethel Parr, and their three sons, Roger, his wife, Diane, and their twins, Shawn and Shari, (Leslie being off to Iowa with his grandparents); Bob, his wife, Luci, and their two, Donna and Michael; Richard and his daughter, Terry; and daughter, Marie, and her husband, Jim Dozer, from Ann Arbor.

THE BASNAW CLAN was together for five o'clock feasting at the Alden Drive home of the Frank Basnaws on the holiday. With them were their three daughters, Diane, her husband, David Branscomb, and their children, Frankie and Sherrill; Charles E. Frank, and their children, Janet and her hubby, Brian Boone; and Sandra McCurdy and son, Ricky, the latter foursome all from Ypsilanti.

Tradition plays a key holiday role

DRIVING TO ALBION on the holiday, Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Sierota and daughters helped continue the tradition started by Jan's family some 20 years back when her uncle and aunt, the Doctors Jack and Pat Hill, first invited the clan for the turkey feast.

Besides the Sierotas there were Jan's parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Kadley; her 84-year old grandfather, Lucius Groner; and aunt, Mrs. Dana Miller, as well as Jan's brother-in-law and sister, John and Barb Hand, and their two boys, all from Dearborn. Plus the Hill's daughter, Susie, was in from the University of Indiana at Bloomington and Jack's folks, the C.Hills came from Portland.

THE MODERN DAY version of 'over the meadow and through the woods, to grandmother's house we go' could well be updated to 'via the expressway and out to Detroit...' for the Edward Koss family of Fret Road who annually done on Thanksgiving Day with his mother, Mrs. Mary Koss.

First, though, there was the big J.L. Hudson parade to view on Woodward Avenue before the dinner hour. With their six youngsters, Sherie, Jenny, Maria, Craig, Domingo, and Steve, the Kosses gave thanks with the Paul Smigowskis of Warren and the Joe Koss family of Elmont. Two of the number, Maria and 'Aunt Judy' also had the honor of their birthday being celebrated at the same time.

AS THEY'VE DONE for the past 20 years, the Bert Smiths joined his parents, the Alonzo Smiths of Willis, for one o'clock dinner Thanksgiving Day. With daughters, Luanne (home from Kalamazoo College), Sue and Carol, they shared the festivities with the Bob Smiths, Julie and Brad, and their newly-married daughter and son-in-law, Becky and Doug Schoenberg, all from Chelsea; and the Leonard Bu rels and sons, Jon, Mike and Jimmie, from Willis, and exchanged greetings with Don and Pat Freitag who phoned from Rantoul, Illinois where he's stationed at Chanute Air Force Base.

Invitations call for out-of-state visits

HEADING OUT OF state Wednesday were Don and Jean Meyer of Madelon Street, who with sons, Ron, Tom and Doug, and daughters, Donna and Sue Ann, were overnight guests of Jean's brother-in-law and sister, Hank and Gerry Wallace, in Lakewood, Ohio.

The following day the two families had Thanksgiving dinner together after which the men got to watch the Detroit Lions trample the Kansas City Chiefs (the game being televised in the Cleveland area.)

Christmas this season! But with 6-foot-8 Tim Boolin, 16018 Huron River Dr., and his cousins, Rodney and Margaret Myers from Milford. (When we spoke to Pat prior to the big day, she was also expecting a contingent of relatives in from Candada, weather permitting.)

Belleville couples have guests in TURKEY DINNER at the Carl Russell home on North Shore Drive was set for one o'clock with both Carl's mother, Mrs. Mildred Summers of Hillsdale, and Barbara's parents, the Bert Bauerslys of Jonesville present for the occasion.

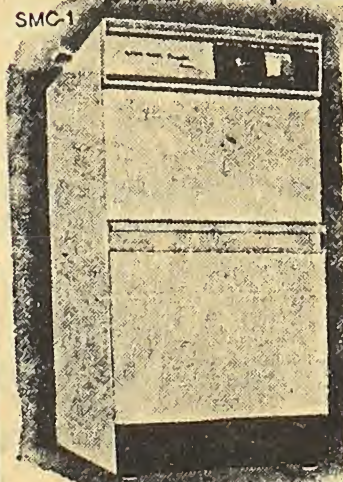

Still others seated at their table were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Fogel and daughter, Pam, from Livonia; the Harold Thompsons and Bert Bauerly, all from Jonesville; as well as Harold Bauerly of Plymouth.

AT THE VAN ALLEN Drive home of Art and Joy Hill, their Thanksgiving dinner was shared with her brother-in-law and sister, Otto and Alice Bitnar, and daughters; their son, Greg, who flew home from Elizabeth, New Jersey for the occasion; daughter, Diane, home from her sophomore classes at Eastern; Jean Atwood from Ann Arbor; and Gary Bodenmiller of Ypsilanti; and, of course, the youngest of the Hill trio, Laurie.

GUESTS FOR DINNER last Thursday at Jim and Barbara Lewis' home on Debra Court were her parents, the John Bokons, Mary, Kathy and Johnnie and Grace Hudge and her three, Sheri, Tommie and Gary. (Tom, being in the northwoods with his brother, Jim, phoned home the big news that he'd bagged a five-point buck the first hour he was out hunting Wednesday.) Barb also sent in a complete dinner to the Leonard Hedges who are here from Tarpon Springs, Florida caring for her bed-ridden mother, Mrs. Josephine Sietz of Sumpter Road.

Nalli-Lambert vows read in Dexter Church

St. Joseph Catholic Church in Dexter was reserved November 5 for the evening wedding of Elizabeth Ann Lambert and Robert Anthony Nalli. The Rev. Ted J. Bozenski presided at the single ring nuptials with Patrick McCaffery providing music for the occasion. The autumn rite united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lambert of Dexter and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Nalli of Lake Pointe Pass, Belleville.

Yellow mums and red roses graced the candlelight altar as the bride approached with her father. Carrying a bouquet of red and white roses, the blue silk gown frosted with silver sequins at the neckline, wrists and lifted waistline. She wore a matching headpiece and held a bouquet of red roses and ceosa tied with white velvet streamers.

Identically dressed, the quintet of bridesmaids included Donna Ethel Lambert of Dexter and Noreen Nalli of Belleville, sisters of the bridal couple; Mrs. William Lambert of Ypsilanti, sister-in-law of the bride; Connie Klapperich of Dexter; and Teresa Tyler of Saline.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked his brother, Al Nalli, Jr. of Ann Arbor, to be his best man. The corps of grooms men was made up of Jay Frey of Ann Arbor; Jeff Stabnau and Bill Wolters of Belleville; and Dave Kryszak of Allen Park. Ushers were Henry Weck, Tony Driggins, Mike Lutz, and Mike Koda, all from Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Lambert wore for her daughter's wedding a pink pantsuit to which she pinned her corsage of red roses. Mrs. Nalli, the bridegroom's mother, chose a wine-colored silk sheath. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Some 175 guests gathered at the Washtenaw Country Club, Ypsilanti, for the reception which followed. Music for dancing was provided by two groups, both composed of friends of the Nalli family, the B.F. - 4 and the Brownsville Station.

Among those congratulating the newlyweds were the bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. Angelo Nalli of Detroit and Mrs. W.C. Foley of Portland, Oregon.

After a week-long honeymoon through the South, the young couple took up residence in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is associated with his parents at Al Nalli Music. A graduate of Belleville High, Bob served with the U.S. Army's Special Forces in Panama.

His bride, a Dexter High graduate, attended Michigan State University and is currently employed by Stein and Goetz Sporting Goods, Ann Arbor.

Population profile

America's population profile is increasingly that of young, married, affluent suburbanites who are mostly on the move, following job and other economic opportunities from one section of the country to another. Median age today, according to the most recent census, is 28 meaning that every other person in the U.S. is under the age of 28. However, the largest income earning group still consists of people between the ages of 35 and 64. Largest group in total numbers is comprised of those under 15.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

A $1,000 scholarship competition for senior students attending high schools in western Wayne County and eastern Washtenaw County is again being sponsored by the Wayne Federal Savings and Loan Association. The program's aim is to assist an interested senior student in pursuing any nature of education or training beyond the high school. Details are available at high schools or the association's branches.

Non-foods swell food bill

The non-food category continues to capture an increasing proportion of grocery store sales. Last year, health and beauty aids accounted for 3.4 percent of total sales. Other important items found in the non-food category include: soft goods (clothing) towels, etc.); magazines and books; toy phonograph records, stationery and sewing needs. It's estimated that more than 20 cents of every dollar spent in food stores goes for non-food purchases. That's something to think about when you start fretting about how much you spend for "food."

Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette

Family 'drop-ins' are irritating

By AMY VANDERBILT

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: I feel relatives should use the same good manners as friends and try to do so. My husbands sister seems to feel relationship gives her and her children the privilege of dropping in any time (they live in another town) without notice, for meals, overnight or for several days. They say I am unfriendly because I expect some notice, but their idea of notice is a post card which arrives the same day they do. We do not stay at their house or impose on them. With luck we may receive a thank-you note three months later. My husband is not sure who is right."

"When we were first married, my husband was the only one to receive a Christmas gift from them, but he straightened them out on this point and was angry at such rudeness. Please say something about manners and consideration among relatives—Mrs. B.W.

Manners within the family are even more important than are manners with the world. If we are rude outside, people can usually get away from us, but family members are in constant contact. I feel that most problems such as you describe can be talked out in a friendly way, but you must keep on trying to make them understand that you do need notice, that every family has times when it needs privacy and rest, that they must not descend upon you in this way. Thank-you notes for entertainment are truly important for relatives. The best way you can underline the matter with them perhaps is to be prompt in your expressions of appreciation and if you have children to see that they are as well.

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: Close friends have asked us to be godparents for their child. We accepted. Now that the baby is here, we are not sure what is expected of us other than sending a nice gift. Although these friends live a great distance from us, they will be here in a few months (as this is their home town) for the baby's christening. Is there anything we should do other than attend the service? Mrs. S.G."

It depends upon the denomination to which the parents of the child belong. I have written at some length about the obligation of godparents in my book. I either ask the parents to let you know what is expected of you, or after determining the denomination, read about it in my book.

A few facts concerning women and heart disease

When Mrs. Louis F. Raye, a trim 49-year-old housewife and mother of two, stepped out of her doctor's office the other day, there was a broad smile on her face. She had been back home for eight months after recuperating from hospitalization with a coronary, and her doctor had just given her "a pretty nice report card."

Not that Mrs. Raye hasn't always been a positive thinker. "An optimist sees an opportunity in every calamity, while a pessimist sees a calamity in every opportunity," she says, recalling the day about a year ago, when her doctor told her she would have to enter the hospital.

One of the first things she found out was that she would have to go on a diet to lose weight. Today, she is some 35 pounds lighter, after being overweight for 20 years.

Mrs. Raye's newly trim figure is also the product of sensible system of exercise prescribed by a physical education director at her local "Y," to whom she went on her doctor's advice. This includes a brisk walk every day. She had been advised by her doctor to walk until she was tired, not exhausted. When she started walking, the first day her limit was one block. By increasing her quota, little by little every day, she found she now can walk about a mile without tiring.

Mrs. Raye is still, of course, on a diet control program which stresses certain foods and de-emphasizes others. She eats a lot of lean meat, poultry and sea food and supplements them with fruits, vegetables, skim milk and cottage cheese. Besides getting along without high fat foods, Mrs. Raye has also learned to avoid "worrying about things I can't change."

Her positive thinking philosophy also resulted in a program to save energy via some expert advice from the President's Committee on the Employment of the Handicapped. As a result, her husband moved the laundry equipment from their basement upstairs to the ground floor bathroom. This saves her considerable energy running up and down the stairs when doing her laundry. Mr. Raye has also put casters on all beds and heavier furniture, to spare her lifting or pushing when doing house cleaning.

While some of her household tasks now involve a bit more family cooperation, her 20-year-old twin girls and husband are glad to pitch in. This usually means helping carry heavier food shopping bags, twice a week, to keep her from overting unnecessarily.

Mrs. Raye is one of the country's 15 million women with some type of cardiovascular disease. While statistics show that far many more men than women suffer heart attacks—at age 45, mortality rate from heart attacks is five times greater in men than women—after menopause, however, the statistics begin to get closer. In fact, by age 70, the percentage for women approaches that of men.

All Around The Town

...with Lee

ALSO AWAY were Mrs. A.R. Lieber and son, Ray, of Ormond Drive who winged their way southward Wednesday to Memphis where they were met by Gwen's mother, Mrs. F.Y. Owens. Together they made the two-hour drive to Gwen's home town, West Point, Mississippi, where they spent the holiday week-end.

STILL OTHERS who embarked on an out-state journey were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shephard of Elwell Road who had their son, Brian, and grandson, Leslie Ferguson, for company. With Olewein, Iowa as their destination, they departed Wednesday afternoon and on arriving were houseguests of Verdys' cousins, the Dale Reids.

The next day it was a gathering-of-the-club for an old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner at the Reid's. And on Saturday, the group did a re-run of the event and got together to celebrate the birthday of another cousin, Floyd Hoppes, with others coming in from Waterloo and Independence, Iowa.

Holiday is also a time for birthdays

THANKSGIVING AT the James Haveranek's Dewitt Street home also marked the birthday of the lady-of-the-house. Adding their notes as Happy Birthday was sung to their mother were Kim and Steve Haveranek and Mrs. H's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fanselow from Lansing.

MARKING THE HOLIDAY in Cleveland the week-end before the 25th were John and Marge Roberts of Lake Pointe Pass who motored down with their daughter, Vicki, her husband, Mike Barnett, and their two little girls, Tytti and Connie.

Visiting with John's mother, Mrs. A.B. Roberts, and his sister and husband, Ann and Earl Blewitt, they helped celebrate the 87th birthday of the family matriarch.

On Thanksgiving Day the Barnetts who reside on McBride Street, were dinner guests of Mike's folks, the Taft Barnetts of Harris Road.

Holiday has triple meaning at Weber's

THANKSGIVING DAY at the Ray Weber's was a three-fold event in that it served to introduce the family to their brand new Bemis Road home and also happened to be the 19th birthday of their son, Chuck, who was week-ending it from his second-year classes at Central Michigan University.

Having moved in just a week earlier, Ray and Lil had 20 at their turkey-laden table including their daughter, Sue, an air line stewardess with United who's living in Redondo Beach, California. Other members of the Weber clan at the holiday get-together were his folks, the Edward Webers; Leo and Margaret Maier, Paul, Pammi and Steve; Tim and Peggy quartet, David, Beverly, Earl, and Diane, all of Belleville.

Brunch is a time for saying 'bon voyage'

BIDDING BON VOYAGE to his parents, the Franklin Allens of Detroit, was part of the day Thursday for the Roger Allens of Belleville Road. Driving to Redford early in the day they were brunch guests of his sister and husband, Norma and Larry McClure, along with the senior Allens; the Tom Swans of Dearborn Heights; and the Rodney Allin family from Adrian.

Following the eleven o'clock get-together the travelers left for their winter quarters in Florida with close friends, the Donald Smiths, also of Detroit.

Roger and Aileen later filled a dinner date with her parents, the Howard Dietzs in Livonia, who had 14 guests at their turkey table.

A reminder...

The Belleville Enterprise-Romulus Roman offices are now located in the 'heart of town'—in the old Township Hall Building at 405 Main St. We're in the front half of the brick structure from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

This little reminder is prompted by the many calls from patrons who've forgotten or just weren't aware that we're no longer at 330 Main.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Have you ever thought about the mental make-up of the anti this and anti that fault finders who seem to oppose everything and everybody? Do you wonder if they ever count their blessings? Whether they ever think of the privileges, advantages and benefits they enjoy as Americans?

Actually, all of us have many, many advantages and benefits we enjoy as Americans. More than any other people on earth, now or at any other time. We think every one should realize, and appreciate, that our advantages and benefits outmatch those of any other government at any time in any era.

We will list a few of these advantages and benefits for publication here shortly. It will be interesting. Watch for it...

avoiding a heart attack? Here is some advice from the American Heart Association, reported by the Health Insurance Institute:

When cooking, use liquid vegetable oils and polyunsaturated shortenings in place of other fats. All of these lower the level of blood cholesterol.

Be a calorie-counter.

Get regular health checkups. If detected, high blood pressure can be controlled in great many cases.

If you smoke, cut down, or better yet, stop.

Bear in mind that sedentary living is an additional risk. Physically inactive individuals run a higher chance of heart attack than those who exercise regularly. Your doctor can fill you in on the kind of physical activity which will suit your age and physical condition.

Of the 2.8 million Americans, men and women, hospitalized last year with some form of cardiovascular ailment, most had a good portion of their medical bills paid by health insurance benefits.

Venezuela is seeking skilled workers.

CYO mounts alcohol attack

The Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) is preparing to mount an attack on the horror of alcohol addiction.

"Alcohol is the number one drug in use in the United States today," says Ray Hillen, CYO social worker who has been appointed coordinator of the organization's alcohol information section.

"Alcoholism is an insidious disease that claims more victims than all other drugs combined. There are six and a half million in the United States today who are chronic alcoholics. Each year 200,000 more join their tragic ranks.

"Combating this disease is extremely difficult because social drinking is acceptable and, often, the last person to admit that he has become addicted to alcohol is the alcoholic himself," Hillen said.

For this reason, the CYP has made a commitment to add alcohol and alcoholism education and information programs for the young to its services.

The present planning is based on a three-month study of alcohol and alcoholism by CYO social worker Freda Hoeksema.

Hillen has developed 10 different programs, all designed to give young people —and the adults who work with them— a better understanding of alcohol and alcoholism.

The program will lay out for them the frightful magnitude and destructive nature of the disease, the services that are available to addicted drinkers and the role that young people can play in reducing the problem.

"An adult has a right to drink in moderation, but this right involves a grave responsibility, too," says Hillen. "He must be aware of the terrible dangers of alcohol, and he must exercise constant discipline to avoid drinking to excess."

The target date for starting the alcohol and alcoholism programs is early in 1972.

The CYO is seeking a grant of $15,000 from the Wayne County Comprehensive Alcoholism program to sustain this work for a year.

EVALUATING HEART FORUM — Evaluating Belleville's recent Heart Forum are Olin Wyman (seated) of Belleville; Robert B. Tower, (standing) president of the Michigan Heart Association's Delegate Assembly, and Mrs. Mary Bowman, chairman of the public relations committee of the Southern Wayne County Heart Unit.

Wyman, a member of the board of the unit, and Mrs. Bowman, who lives in Wyandotte, promoted the forum for the unit, which was its sponsor. Belleville Enterprises was its cosponsor. Both agreed that the support of the Enterprise was essential to the success of the forum.

4-H dog project planned weekly

Interested persons are invited to attend a meeting of the 4-H Dog Project held each Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Wayne County 4-H

Jacque Renier and Bill Wells, who realized that with an increasing number of youths in 4-H living in urban areas, a dog was the only animal most boys or girls. Due to the dedication of past and present trainers and leaders, the project has proven very popular.

Due to the nature of the program, the following conditions are required of 4-H members entering the project:

(1) New dogs are accepted in October and January only.
(2) The dog must be of the nature and size that can be controlled by the 4-H trainer.
(3) All dogs must have proof of their shots and be in good health.

(4) A training leash and collar are required.

Group offers Christmas cards

Mrs. Mary McKinney, chairman of the Heart Information Center of the Southern Wayne County Unit of the Michigan Heart Association, likes both of the two Christmas cards offered this year by the Michigan Heart Association.

"For those with modern tastes we have 'Christmas Flower,' a semi-abstract done by Mary Jane Bigler, an internationally known professor of art at Wayne State University," she says, "and for those who are sentimental we have 'Christmas Prayer,' by Leland Beaman of Jackson, the immortal theme of a kneeling child and a shining star."

Mrs. McKinney, who lives in New Boston, suggests you place your order early at the center, 24365 Van Born Rd., Taylor, 48180, telephone 292-5500.

Both cards are part of the association's 10-year long program to promote the works of Michigan artists by using them for Christmas themes.

Mrs. Bigler, chairman of the Michigan Water Color Society, has had showings in London, Paris, Rome and the Detroit Institute of Art and has won many prizes.

PROMOTING CHRISTMAS CARDS — Mrs. Mary McKinney of New Boston, chairman of the information center of the Southern Wayne County Unit of the Michigan Heart Association, displays two Christmas

Board is staffing new counsel office

Backed by a court victory, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners is proceeding to staff its new office of Corporation Counsel.

The county legislative body authorized Corporation Counsel Aloysius J. Suchy to fill eight positions immediately, with another 13 positions provided for the budget year starting Dec. 1.

Wayne County Circuit Judge James L. Ryan ruled on Nov. 16 that the Board of Commissioners had the legal authority to establish its office of Corporation Counsel and to assign all county civil law functions to it.

The commissioners established the function of Corporation Counsel last June. Nine other urban counties in Michigan already had such offices.

Prosecutor William L. Calahan immediately filed suit in Circuit Court, challenging the action. He later fired Suchy, apparently because he believed Suchy was in line for the new post. After the firing, Suchy was hired by the Board of Commissioners.

Judge Ryan ruled that the Board of Commissioners could not effect "wholesale transfer" of personnel from the civil division. However, he held that civil division employees could resign to take jobs with the Corporation Counsel. A number have done so.

Calahan immediately announced he would appeal the decision. A number of other county boards which have corporation counsels are expected to intervene on the side of the Wayne County Board before the Court of Appeals.

Wayne County Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick said the major factor in the decision to establish the Corporation Counsel's office was board dissatisfaction with the services it was getting from the prosecuting attorney including Calahan's refusal on a number of occasions to initiate legal actions requested by the Board.

Red Cross suggests blood donation as gift

Wondering what to give this Christmas that will mean the most to your family? There's one present you can give that cannot be manufactured, it must be given by you.

The Red Cross urges you, this holiday season, to give your family the security of an available blood supply should illness or accident strike. By donating at least one unit of blood each year, your family will be covered for 12 months under the Red Cross Blood Program's Family Plan.

"Under the Family Plan," Peter Von Berg, Red Cross blood program field representative of the downriver area, said, "blood coverage will be provided for you, your spouse, children under 18, children over 18 that cannot donate, parents and parents-in-law, grandparents and grandparents-in-law and the brothers and sister of an unmarried donor."

Every 60 seconds over 10 units of blood are used in this country to treat the ill and injured.

For Christmas this year, bring an end to your blood need worries.

To donate the unit of blood needed for Family Plan membership, a Red Cross bloodmobile will be located at the Downriver Regional Office, 2036 Ford Ave., Wyandotte, tomorrow (Thursday) from 2 to 8 p.m. For an appointment to donate, please call 282-2434.

Seniors' club has Thanksgiving feast

The Romulus Senior Citizens Club held its Thanksgiving party and dinner in the Community Center Room at Romulus Municipal Building, 11111 S. Wayne Rd.

Following an opening prayer and a group pledge of allegiance to the flag, several speakers presented talks at the dinner-party.

William Smith from the Romulus Recreation Department gave a short speech about the city's recreational programs.

William Anderson of Romulus read several Romulus Recreation Commission Chairman DuWayne Martin discussed plans for organizing a workshop program for male members of the club.

A group of 75 persons were present at the party, including the following special guests: Delma Cant, Bill Smith, Elsie Smith, Hazel Miller, Margaret Sloane, Salena Johnson, Cecelia Renke, Phillip Renke, Dorothy Anderson, Mary Carter and Mrs. Brooker R. Edwards.

New members joining the club were Mrs. Elsie Pruett and Mrs. Esther Cant.

The program concluded with a brief talk by Joe Weaver of WJBK Channel 2 TV and having movies of the group taken by him.

Students collect food for needy families

Some of Romulus' needy families were given food assistance on Thanksgiving Day by students attending Mt. Pleasant Elementary School, 39000 Superior St., Romulus. The assistance was in the form of canned goods collected by the students prior to Thanksgiving Day. The food collection was a school project, school principal Harold Connon reported.

The food distribution to some of the city's needy families included, besides canned goods, cake mixes and pie fillings. The collection filled 12 large carton boxes, Connon said.

Union picks up tab for Yule phone calls

Continuing a tradition of three years' standing, the American Federation of Musicians (AFL-CIO) will again pick up the tab for U.S. servicemen's phone calls from overseas bases to their homes at Christmastime.

U.S. servicemen and women may call their homes from anywhere on the globe where there is a U.S. military base or ship, as guests of the AFM, it was announced by Hal C. Davis, president of the 315,000-member union.

Calls are transmitted from overseas by the Military Amateur Radio Service (or MARS) to a HAM radio station in Mansfield, Ohio. From there they are sent through regular telephone lines to the serviceman's home.

The Mansfield HAM station is manned by Robert Altomonte, president of the federation's local 159.

In 1970 equipment purchased with the help of the AFM enabled Altomonte to reach 60 per cent more stations and to talk longer on a clearer, stronger signal.

Last Christmas, several hundred calls were put through in a three-day period, primarily from Viet Nam, but also from faraway places like Korea, Ethiopia, Japan, Antarctica and nearby places like Vieques Island in the Caribbean, which has no phones at all. Even men in a Navy plane over the Atlantic and patients in a hospital ship in the South Pacific were able to talk to their families.

For technical reasons, the calls must be originated by the serviceman overseas rather than a member of his family at home.

Because of the heavy traffic at the Christmas season, it is of the utmost importance that the serviceman who wishes to take advantage of this offer should make arrangements in advance with the MARS operator on his base and then have the operator notify Altomonte.

The following information is vital: date, time of the call, call letters and frequency of the station.

Families of servicemen should keep in mind that scheduling of calls is frequently influenced by atmospheric conditions. Because of international time differences, calls must be set up by Altomonte and MARS operators.

The AFM will pay telephone charges for any call sent through the Mansfield, Ohio station between 12:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Dec. 24 and 12 midnight EST, Dec. 26.

A Public Apology From BOX JEWELERS

Sorry. We tried. But our experts couldn't get parts to fix this old line press. It seems the manufacturer has gone out of business.

But when it comes to servicing—or selling—a watch, a clock, jewelry, or gifts, nobody in town does it better (or more honestly) than us.

If you have any kind of watch or clock that doesn't tick—or lock—the way it should, bring it in. Perhaps all it needs is to be regulated. And we'll do that FREE! Or, if it needs cleaning or repair, we'll give you an estimate. And that's FREE, too! This goes for jewelry also. We can re-size a ring. Re-set a stone. Fix a clasp. Anything! And when it comes to choosing a new watch or clock—you won't find a bigger or better selection anywhere in town. Names like Elgin, Bulova, Accutron, LeCoultre.

So come in soon. Browse to your heart's content. Our people will treat you courteously. And they will answer your questions accurately—and honestly.

You'll like doing your Christmas gift shopping at our store—where the only thing old-fashioned is the service!

Stop throwing money out the window.

Fix cracks and openings around your windows and doors and save Gas and money, too.

Those cracks and openings may look small, but when you add them up it's like leaving your window open all winter. A little weatherstripping or caulking, which you can probably do yourself, will take care of that problem and save you Gas and money, too.

This is just one of many Gas and money-saving ideas you'll find in Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's free booklet, "The Great Escape." By checking and correcting the ways heat escapes from your home, you can make Gas (already one of today's big bargains) an even bigger bargain.

Fill out the coupon, and learn more ways to foil the great escape—and save Gas and money, too. Or pick up a copy of "The Great Escape" at any of our offices. It's free.

WSCS serves luncheon

The ladies of the Women's Society of Christian Service (WSCS) will serve their final luncheon of the year on Friday, Dec. 3, at the United Methodist Church, located on Olive Street, Romulus. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The menu will include creamed chicken on biscuits, jello salad, pie and coffee. A Christmas bazaar also will be held.

Students travel to state home

Several members of the Romulus Science Club at Romulus Senior High School traveled to the Plymouth State Home and Training School, located at 15480 Sheldon Rd., Northville, and sponsored a party for the children residing there.

The children who reside at the school are both blind and retarded. The recent party, it was reported, was thoroughly enjoyed by the children.

Science Club members who attended the party were:

Yvette Austin, recording secretary; Sylvia Binkowski, Jan Key, corresponding secretary; Barb Curley, Susan Morris, Addell Austin and Mike Earle. Transportation was provided by club advisor and supervisor William Bajcz Jr.

The financing of the project came from individual donations from members of the club.

Since contact with the outside is generally good for the children, parties as sponsored by the science club are enthusiastically received by the school's staff.

Any group desiring to provide an activity should contact the Community Relations office of the home at 453-1500, ext. 257.

Activities should be booked at least two weeks in advance.

Benefit tonight

House ransacked

State Police of the Ypsilanti Post are investigating the break-in at the home of Joseph H. Thompson of 249 N. Mansfield St., Ypsilanti.

The break-in was reported to police by Earl McNaughton of 930 Liberty St., Belleville.

The home was found ransacked. Between 16 to 30 Kennedy half-dollars were missing.

New grain program can correct corn over-supply

The 1972 Feed Grain Program announced recently should help correct the over-supply of corn caused by this year's tremendous corn crop and increase farm incomes, according to Arthur Monks, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee with offices at 3716 Newberry St., Wayne.

Monks explained farmers took advantage of exceptionally favorable early planting conditions this year and increased their corn plantings by 11 per cent in anticipation of heavy damage from southern corn leaf blight.

Monks says, "Many farmers gambled that corn blight would hit their neighbor's corn but wouldn't bother theirs. With favorable early planting conditions also a factor, farmers across the nation exceeded their January and March planting intentions by 3 million acres."

The 1972 Feed Grain Program, with its additional set-aside from 20 to 25 percent of the base acreage, plus the additional set-aside options, should result in taking at least 38 million acres out of production - compared with 18.2 million acres this year.

He estimates that farmers will produce about 4.5 billion bushels of corn on this acreage. This reduced production should allow a draw-down in stocks in corn next year.

"The 1972 program, although designed to reduce corn production, offers farmers even more decision-making freedom than they had in 1971 - the first year of a new farm program which emphasized the importance of farmers making their own management decisions. The two new set-aside options and more liberal substitution make the difference," Mr. Monks said.

Monks explained the set-aside options this way:

Option 1 - This is the minimum 25 per cent qualifying set-aside that the producer must sign up for if he wants to participate. Payment rate for this is set at 80 cents a bushel for corn, 64 cents per bushel for barley, and 76 cents per bushel for grain sorghum, paid on the established farm yield times the qualifying set-aside acres (25 percent of the farm base).

Option 2 - After signing for option 1, the producer can agree to set aside an additional amount of acreage, up to 10 per cent of his corn and grain sorghum base and up to 20 per cent of his barley base.

He will be paid for this at 52 cents per bushel for corn, 42 cents per bushel for barley and 49 cents per bushel for grain sorghum. Payment under this option is figured on the established farm yield times the acres of additional voluntary set-aside.

Option 3 - The producer can offer to set aside still another 5 or 10 per cent of his corn and grain sorghum base acreage but the Secretary of Agriculture has until mid-March to decide whether or not he wants to accept any or all of this offer.

If the secretary accepts the offer the additional set-aside payment and method of computation are the same for corn or grain sorghum as under option 2. There is no third option for barley.

Stadium passes hurdle, house okays hotel tax

The new riverfront stadium proposed for downtown Detroit cleared another hurdle Thursday when the Michigan House approved a 5 per cent tax on hotels and motels in the city.

After an initial defeat two weeks ago, the House voted 59-38 for the accommodations tax, which the Wayne County Commission can now levy on hotel and motel rooms around Detroit. Plans are to raise some $2 million to be used toward the construction and operation of the $85 million multi-purpose stadium.

The bill, which now heads to the Senate, is part of a package aimed at raising $4.5 million toward construction of the stadium. The remaining state support would come through legislation authorizing transfer to the Stadium Authority of state horse racing revenues.

The bill just made it through, getting only three more votes than the 56 required for passage.

On Nov. 11 the House missed passing the bill by the same three-vote margin, but a motion to reconsider was made, enabling it to be brought up again.

On Sept. 23 the Board of Commissioners voted 16-9 to pledge the county's faith and credit behind a $126 million bond issue for the stadium. Approval was granted on two conditions, however - that the hotel-motel tax go through and that additional revenues be approved through racing.

The Building Department was recently expanded by two men. With industrial growth being what it is in the Romulus area, it'll soon need a few more.

BOLD STEP NO. 5

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

We are reducing the selling price on all our merchandise including Lane, Serta, Bassett, Broyhill, Dolly Madison and scores of others! We are taking this action in the hopes that manufacturers and retailers will reduce their prices accordingly. That is our goal: to start a downward spiral of costs to you, the people of South Eastern Michigan. It will help the home furnishings industry as a whole. It will help manufacturers and retailers and, most important, it will help you the customer.

We've introduced a brilliant new concept in furniture delivery:

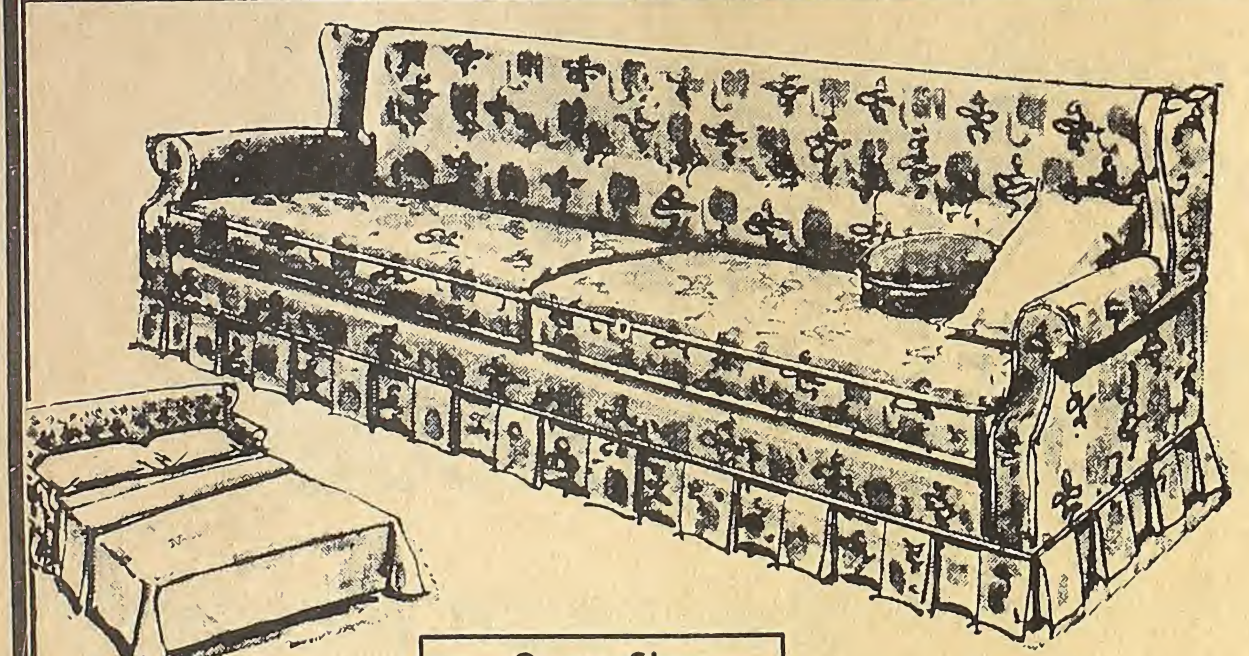

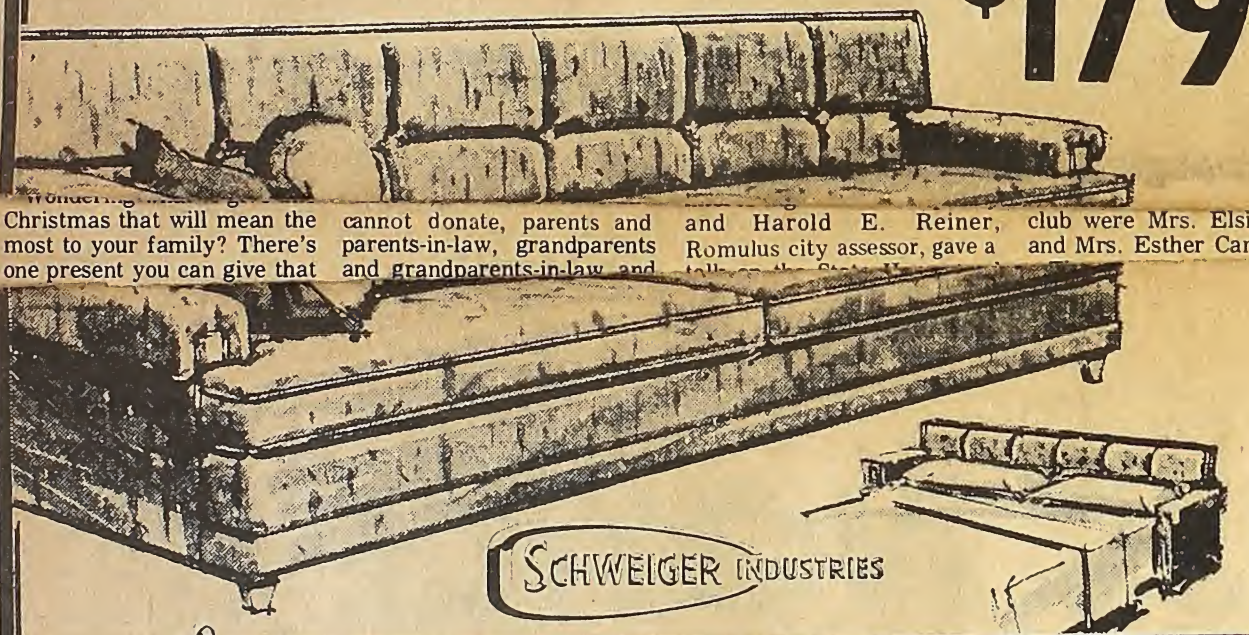

Do it yourself. Yep, take it home with you. Right now. After all, why pay for delivery if you don't need it.

Here's how our brilliant new delivery system works: You pick what you want in the showroom and we'll have it waiting for you at the loading dock. We'll put it in your car right away and you'll be home enjoying it almost as soon. Simple. (If you need to rent a trailer, we have them for your free use at B/D Furniture Warehouse.) Sometimes you'd rather not take the furniture with you. So we'll deliver it for you. Cheaply and quickly. Our optional delivery charge is shown right on the B-D price/savings tag. So is the optional set-up charge. If you want delivery, we'll take your furniture to you in a couple of days. Not in a couple of months.

THESE SOFAS ARE REAL SLEEPERS!

There's more to this than meets the eye! Two elegant sofas designed with all the beauty and comfort you want for your living room plus the convenience of extra sleeping space, any time you need it! But there's more, these convertibles were first designed as sofas, then restyled as sleepers with heavy polyurethane foam mattresses built in, not outside where it shows.

Mailing dates creep up fast

Christmas mailing dates will be here soon.

Postmasters Raymond J. O'Neil of Belleville and George Austin of Romulus Monday suggested dates by which Christmas mailings should be deposited. They are as follows:

Out of town parcels, today (Wednesday); local parcels and out-of-town Christmas greeting cards, Dec. 10; and local cards and letters, Dec. 15.

Extended window service hours during the Christmas mailing season will start on Monday, Dec. 13, when the service windows will remain open for the sale of stamps and acceptance of parcel post until 6 p.m., or as long as is necessary to serve customers who are in the lobby at that time.

Regular window hours from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. will be observed starting Thursday, Dec. 23.

The stamp and parcel post windows will be open on Saturday, Dec. 4, Saturday, Dec. 11 and Saturday, Dec. 18 from 8:30 until 2 p.m., or as long as is necessary to serve the patrons who are in the lobby at that time.

Postal customers are urged to take advantage of the Saturday hours on Dec. 4 to mail Christmas parcels.

Although too late for out-of-town mailings, window service on Saturday, Dec. 18, will afford an opportunity for many customers to purchase stamps and mail items for local delivery.

"The key to efficient Christmas mailing," Postmasters O'Neil and Austin commented, "is to mail early and carefully. Clear addressing, with the ZIP codes, proper packaging and early depositing can prevent most problems and provide the greatest value for money spent on postage."

Store to award stocking

Manning's Department Store, one of Belleville's leading downtown stores, located at 424 Main St., Belleville, is awarding a 10-foot Christmas stocking this year.

The huge Christmas stocking now on view at the store will be given to some lucky shopper who resides in the Belleville-Van Buren Township areas.

Persons who enter the store and register will be given a ticket on the Christmas stocking.

No purchase is necessary or required, Charles Tricky, co-owner, reported.

If the winner resides within a five-mile radius of the store, the stocking will be delivered. Any further distance requires the winner to call at the store for the stocking, which is loaded with merchandise and Christmas gifts.

Beauty operator teaches

Mrs. George Brown, owner and operator of Lorraine's Beauty Nook of Belleville has been giving generously of her time this year to Mrs. Laura Schimmel's home economics students at South Junior High School, Belleville.

The seventh grade classes have been working on self-improvement unit, which includes figure control and posture, plus clothing selection and care. The girls also study hair, skin and nail care.

Mrs. Brown's visits have been most helpful to the students because she emphasizes good skin care and the natural look in make-up. She also stresses the importance of correct hair styling for various types.

Lorraine's Beauty Nook is located at 19533 Sumpter Rd., Belleville.

Long-time teacher to resign

Mrs. Mary E. Kilgroe a Romulus schoolteacher who lives at 24715 Powers, Dearborn Heights, has submitted her request for retirement, effective Dec. 31.

Mrs. Kilgroe, who is presently teaching the second grade at the Harrison Elementary School, 14701 Harrison Rd., Romulus, has been on the teaching staff of the Romulus Community School District for the last 22 years.

The school board last week accepted her retirement request with regrets. It also ordered a certificate of merit to be sent to Mrs. Kilgroe.

Tree sale will begin

The Belleville Kiwanis Club annual Christmas Tree Sale opens Dec. 3.

The Christmas trees arrived in the city last Wednesday.

The trees will be sold on Main Street near the Belvill Community Hospital, located at 105 Main St., Belleville.

Book fair is success

The recent Book Fair sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) at the Edgemont Elementary School, Belleville, was a reported success.

The total number of books sold at the book fair was 1,640. These books sold for a total of $1,446.72. Of the book sale proceeds, 20 per cent went to the PTO, it was reported.

The PTO's appreciation was expressed to the following teachers and parents who assembled to sort out the books and the school janitors who assisted in carrying the boxes of books to each teacher's room during the book fair: Mrs. Wanda Shirley, Mrs. Mona Salisbury, John Hale, James Lightfoot, Mr. and Mrs. James Fruit, Mrs. Evelyn Krug, Mrs. Dorothy Florian, Mrs. Maryann Bassett, Mrs. Sharon Matthews and Mrs. Suzann Young.

Winter in Michigan is no time to hibernate

The snow white months of December through March have everything going for you in Michigan, according to the new Michigan Calendar of Travel Events, just released by the Michigan Tourist Council.

One of the highlights of Christmas month is Fantasyland at the John F. Kennedy Memorial Center in Lincoln Park. Call it "just an old fashion Christmas display." Then add animated scenes, a circus, a street of toy and candy shops with elves and pixies everywhere.

The doll house features 500 dolls dressed by youth groups and service organizations that will be distributed to charitable groups. And, reigning overall, the spirit of Christmas.

In January, ski enthusiasts can watch a great show of exciting thrills and spills at the U.S. Olympic Team tryouts on the world's highest man made ski jump at Pine Mountain in Iron Mountain.

The North American speedskating championships are scheduled for February at Alpena with the best skaters from 37 states and Canada competing. There will be fun for the whole family in March at the snowmobile races in East Jordan. Ladies are invited to display their prowess in maneuvering the motorized ski machines in the Powder Puff Races, and men can vie for championship honors in their own competition.

Skiing competitions, snowmobile races, dog sled races, winter carnivals, antique, camper and trailer, coin, home and boat, sports and hobby shows are among other attractions, north, south east and west during the first three months of 1972, plus some 84 collegiate and professional sports events for enthusiastic fans.

Services held for deer hunter

Funeral services for Harold Dale Porterfield, 19, of Belleville, who was killed while deer hunting, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Geer Funeral Home, 320 N. Washington St., Ypsilanti. Burial was in Washtenaw Memorial Cemetery, Ann Arbor.

Porterfield was hunting deer with four companions in the woods in Freedom Township, Washtenaw County, last Wednesday (Nov. 24) morning.

Near the intersection of Schnieder and Koebe Roads, Washtenaw County, a deer ran out of the woods in front of the four hunters. One of the hunters fired, fatally wounding Porterfield.

The slaying was ruled accidental and the youth who fired the shot was not held. Porterfield's death was the tenth fatality of the deer hunting season.

Mr. Porterfield, who was known as "Hal", is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Porterfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Donald (Janice) Ware and Mrs. Joseph (Linda) Keehl, both of Ypsilanti.

Fish fry set at church

By Pearl Morris
Phone WH 1-1187

The Methodist Men's Club will sponsor a "Fish Fry" Friday evening, Dec. 3, in the basement of the United Methodist Church, Olive Street. Serving will be from 5 to 8 p.m. and everyone is invited to attend. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under 12 years.

This Friday (Dec. 3) a noon luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the United Methodist Church on Olive Street by ladies of the WSCS. Business and professional folks and city officials are especially invited to attend. A Christmas bazaar also will be held at that time. The menu will feature creamed chicken on biscuits, jello salad, pie and coffee. Donations will be $1.50. The ladies promise they will be geared for fast service.

On Sunday, Dec. 5, the Altar Society of the St. Aloysius Church, Ozga Road, will sponsor its Annual Christmas bazaar and chicken and meatballs dinner at the Parish school hall on Neville Street. The dinner will be served from noon to 5 p.m. and the bazaar will be in session from noon to 6 p.m. Dinner donations will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Children under 5 will be admitted free. The bazaar will feature many beautiful hand-made items. Everyone is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Niemi have moved from their home at 31716 Eureka Road to Farmington. The Niemis had resided here more than 22 years. They were forced to move because of the planned expansion of the local Detroit Metro Airport.

The next meeting of the Romulus Mom's Club is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 6, at the Romulus Progressive Club Hall on Ozga Road. The gathering starts with pot luck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Gribble of Grindstone, Pa. enjoyed Thanksgiving and are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gribble of Aston Street. The two men are brothers.

The "thank you" offering taken this past Sunday at the United Methodist churches of Romulus and New Boston proved to be heart-warmingly successful. The pastor, Rev. Hal Ferris, and Fred Wahrman of Wahrman Road had a full truck load of food to deliver to the Methodist Children's Village last Monday morning - in time for Thanksgiving. The village was most appreciative of the food offering.

WAYNE COUNTY ROAD COMMISSION

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Huron, Wayne County, Michigan.

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on November 4, 1971, decide and determine that the certain county road (alley) described in the minutes of said meeting of said Board should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as a public highway, reserving therein the easement set forth in said determination.

The portion of the minutes of said meeting fully describing said county road (alley) is attached hereto and a part of this notice, which is given under and by virtue of Act 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan, this 4th day of November, A.D. 1971.

BOARD OF COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN
Michael Berry, Chairman
Philip J. Neudeck, Vice-Chairman
Freddie G. Burton, Commissioner
Henry J. Galecki, Secretary and Clerk of the Board

RESOLUTION

Commissioner Burton moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, pursuant to petition and in accordance with the provisions of Section 18, Chapter IV, Act No. 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended, this Board, by resolution dated May 19, 1971, set a date of hearing on said petition and directed a Hearing Examiner to hold said hearing; and

WHEREAS, said hearing was held at the time and place appointed, and the Board has considered the findings of fact as reported by its Hearing Examiner concerning the advisability of absolutely abandoning and discontinuing:

All of the east-west alley, 20 feet in width - as dedicated to the use of the public in "WILLOW HEIGHTS SUB" of part of the S.W. 1/4 of Sec. 29, T. 4S., R. 9E., Huron Twp., Wayne Co., Mich., as recorded in Liber 57 of Plats on Page 98, Wayne County Records - lying in the rear of or adjacent to lots 357 to 369, both inclusive;

WHEREAS, the premises were viewed in accordance with said statute.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that it is in the best interest of the public that the above-described county road or portion thereof, be absolutely abandoned and discontinued and that said road or portion thereof is hereby absolutely abandoned and discontinued reserving therein easement for public utilities and sewer purposes.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Neudeck and carried by the following vote:

Ayes, Commissioners Neudeck and Burton. Nays, None.

Commissioner Berry abstained from voting.

without much purpose. You can correct all that by making an intelligent plan of action for yourself and scrupulously following it.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you want to get all that routine work finished properly, you had better schedule your time well with partner. Reread letters, reports, so you know they are correct. Make sure the meaning is right.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to take economy measures and get over that financial hump or property trouble that has been bothering you. Talk over business matters with experts. Follow only the best advice.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Use self-control in the face of all those desires of a personal nature that you have today. People could get on your nerves, especially close friends, so do something about improving your health. Get fit and feel happier.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) If you make an im-personal study of those problems that have had you puzzled, you know just how to solve them. Assist a good friend who comes to you for help that is sorely needed. Get to bed early tonight.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) You had better postpone that gathering with friends until a more propitious time. Con-centrate on your plans for the future and take constructive steps toward them. Know where you are going and how to get there.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take care you do not irritate anyone who has power over your affairs, and be sure to use wise words. Follow every rule and regulation that concerns you. Taking chances now could be very expensive.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Not a good day for adding to present activities, but fine for investigating new outlets. Listen to what an attractive person has to say. Don't fall for this overly glittering plan.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have responsibilities you simply have to handle now, otherwise you are apt to get into trouble later on. Your hunches are quite off-base, so do not follow through on them. Use your logic.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You associates are touchy now and an argument could ensue over some thoughtless word, so be most careful in speaking. Show that you have poise. Make sure you keep any real promises you have made to others.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You had better get at that work early which only you can do and which is your own particular responsibility. You and co-workers have some differences, but don't bring them up now. Use the tactful approach.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Spend spare time with friends enjoying amusements that have proved satisfactory in the past. However, do not be extravagant in such. Praise others lavishly. They deserve it.

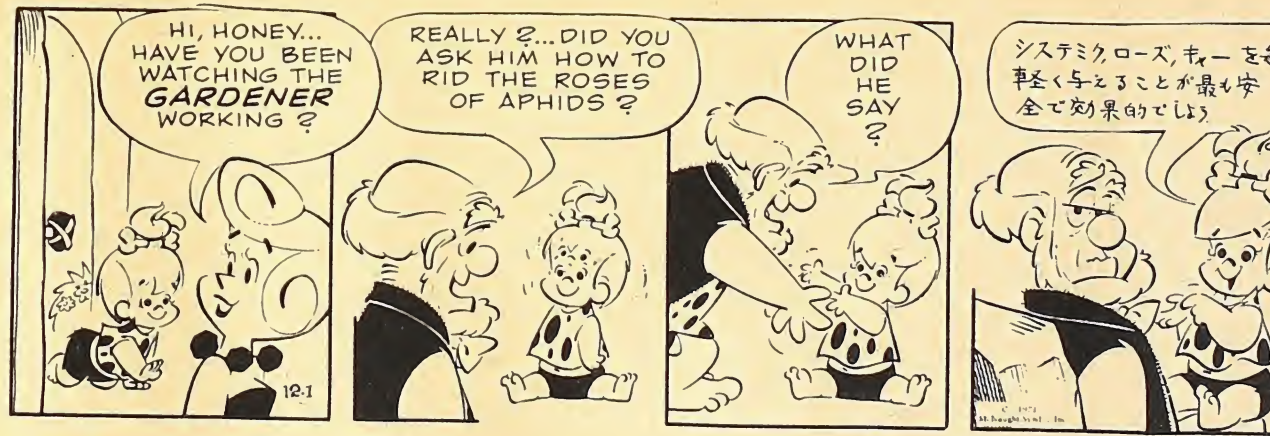

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show devotion to kin at home and give them the benefit of any doubt that may arise. Get rid of whatever has been causing inharmony at home. Make some plans now for the holidays ahead.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those interesting young people whose mind is filled almost all the time with all kinds of idle thoughts instead of sticking to the main issues in life. Teach while young to have a goal and to work towards it without deviating. Then there can be much success for your child, instead of the proverbial rolling stone existence. A fine salesperson, promoter, student is indicated in this chart. Give music lessons early.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.
